Accord Reported Near On Mid-East Armistice Terms

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 13 (AP)—For the second time in three days U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today asked Israel for assurances that her forces have been forbidden to fire across Egypt's border.

This was Hammarskjold's reply to a demand from Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion for Hammarskjold to obtain such assurances from Egypt. Hammarskjold reminded Ben-Gurion he had asked for such Israeli assurance, had not received them, and that Egypt has promised to comply fully.

This was disclosed in a series of letters Hammarskjold sent here for circulation to the Security Council.

Hammarskjold continued the fast pace he set when he departed last Friday from U.N. headquarters on a peace mission ordered by the Security Council The tense Egyptian - Israeli frontier was calm but uneasiness was in the air. Hammarskjold will conclude his talks in Cairo tomorrow and expects to see Ben-Gurion next Tuesday.

Secretary of State Dulles visited New York on personal business and chatted with U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr, president of the Security Council this month A delegation source said it was possible they discussed the Middle East but pointed out this was not unusual since they confer each day by telephone.

Dulles would not comment on a report that the U.N. Security Council might meet abroad, possibly in Rome, on the Middle East situation.

Another 2,000 Registrations Face Challenge

Citizens' Council To File Objection By First Of Next Week

The Ouachita Parish Citizens Council is in the preparation of affidavits and letters challenging at least 2,000 more allegedly illegal voter registrations now on file in the office of the registrar, Dr. D. Y. Anderson, president of the council's board of directors, said Friday night.

The announcement came on the heels of a report Friday by Registrar of Voters Mrs. Mae Lucky, who announced that her office has challenged the registration of 1,029 voters. She said the main reason for disqualifying the registrations was applications on file in the office made out by persons other than voters.

Dr. Anderson said the first filing of the council's challenges with the registrar will be made Monday. He explained that the council has been investigating the registrar's books for the past four weeks and that the investigation is far from complete. He said the council is continuing to go through the books and expects to find still more parish voters who are illegally registered.

The board president also explained that the letters and affidavits must, according to law, be mailed by the registrar within 48 hours after filing by the challenger. He said the voter challenged must present himself in person within 10 days to the rigistrar with three bonafide registered voters of his ward and precinct to attest to his

Four On Trial At Birmingham For Cole Attack

BIRMINGHAM, April 13 (AP)—A police officer today testified two white men tried to drag Negro singer Nat King Cole off the stage during a wild melee at his concert here Tuesday night.

Officer H. E. Schatz, 28, was the only witness on the opening day of the trial of four men arrested on misdemeanor charges following the incident. The case was recessed until 9 a.m. Monday.

Most of Schatz's testimony dealt with actions of two men charged with assault with intent to murder, W. R. Vinson, 23, and Kenneth Adams, 35, both of Anniston, Ala. A preliminary hearing is scheduled for them April 20.

The four being tried now are charged with various misdemeanors, punishable by jail sentences of 180 days and fines of $100 in each case.

Defense Attorney Roderick Beddow had asked for a delay. He told Judge Ralph Parker that "these cases are important to these defendants, and to the state and this city."

Parker replied that "these are just the usual run of cases," and ordered that the men be brought to trial.

Parker also denied a motion for separate trials.

Cole was attacked on the stage of the Municipal Auditorium here as he sang. He was not seriously injured, but canceled several other Southern appearances. He was to continue his tour at Raleigh, N.C., tonight.

Detectives investigating the attack said they had information that plans had been made for more than 100 white men to take over the Municipal Auditorium. The concert was being presented before an audience of about 4,000 white persons.

Brownell Rejects Opinion Immigration Quotas May 'Double' Under Ike's Bill

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said today that President Eisenhower proposes a "limited" increase in the number of immigrants. He refused to concede that the number would be doubled.

Brownell, appearing before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, also objected to a suggestion that under Eisenhower's proposals the "cultural pattern" of immigration would be shifted to southeastern Europe.

Brownell said he did not like the term "cultural pattern" or know just what subcommittee counsel Richard Arens meant by it.

The attorney general went before the subcommittee to back up Eisenhower's Feb. 8 recommendations for revising the controversial McCarran - Walter Immigration Act. Eisenhower asked for a 64,804 increase in the annual immigration quota, now set at 154,657. He also proposed a limited arrangement for reallocating unused quotas.

Arens asked if the proposed increase, plus the pooling of unused quotas, would not have the prac-

La. Genealogical History Society Meets Here Today

The Louisiana Genealogical and Historical Society, currently pressing for the establishment of a state archive department, will convene at 2 p.m. today at the Ouachita Parish courthouse.

The meeting is open to the general public and the Society hopes that enough local citizens will attend to organize a Monroe chapter of the organization.

Among purposes of the Society are to aid its members with research, collecting and preserving genealogical records, and stimulating interest in genealogy and history throughout the state.

With reference to a state archive department, members of the Society point out that most southern states now have such departments for storage of valuable old records. They contend that Louisiana, one of the most colorful and interesting states from a historical standpoint, should make an effort to establish such a department.

All persons interested in any aspect of genealogy and history, whether in connection with their family history, the history of the state or of the south are especially invited to attend.

Jes' Ramblin'

Yesterday was Friday the 13th a mighty bad omen, but so far we have not heard of anything so really bad hereabouts. Maybe it is because reports of the day have not yet all been received. By some hook or crook, the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce picked above all other possible days, Friday Arpil 13 as "Straw Hat Day." We'll wager they did not think of ill omens when they set the time.

However they report that they got rid of some choice bargains

French Seaborne Commandoes Hit Algerian Rebels

ALGIERS, April 13 — UP — French seaborne commandos and naval guns attacked Algerian rebels in a land-sea operation on the western Mediterranean coast Friday. The rebels were routed from coastal positions and many were believed killed.

French authorities said the combined operation took place "somewhere on the coast of the Bone department" in western Algeria near the Tunisian border.

The attack began Thursday night when a French escort vessel sailed up to the rebel-infested coast carrying a detachment of commandos.

The commandos sneaked ashore and routed a rebel unit. At daybreak, the French destroyer Guichen opened up with its guns and blasted an insurgent position.

Monroe Selected To Host 'Mrs. Louisiana' Contest Slated For Next Friday

Statewide finals to select a "Mrs. Louisiana" to represent this state in the national "Mrs. America" contest will be held in Monroe next Friday, it was announced here today by J. S. Cage, Monroe division manager of United Gas Corp.

Local winners from many points in Louisiana will start converging in Monroe on Thursday to participate in the series of home-making contests which will determine the Louisiana representative to participate in the national judging to be held in May at Ellinor village, Daytona Beach, Florida. The state finals will be held at the United Gas Service Center on Louisville Avenue.

Contestants will be judged on the basis of versatility and skill in various homemaking duties such as meal planning, cooking, sewing, house-keeping, participation in community and church affairs and individual poise, personality and neatness.

Judges for the event are Dr. Paul T. Hendershot, professor of economics from Louisiana Tech, Ruston; Miss May Louise Comeaux, head of the home economics department of Southwest Louisiana Institute, Lafayette; and Miss Lettie Van Landingham, Bossier parish home demonstration agent, Benton.

In addition to representing Louisiana in the national "Mrs. America" contest, where she will compete with winners from other states for the national homemaking title, the state finalist named here Friday will receive a wide selection of valuable awards and merchandise prizes, according to Cage.

"This statewide contest, which is sponsored by United Gas, is in

German Medics See Dangers In Polio Vaccines

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 13 (AP)—Seven West German government medical advisers say American and German children inoculated with Salk antipolio vaccine or a German serum may have been turned into spreaders of polio.

The statement was contained in a report in a medical journal yesterday. Communists promptly picked it up for use as anti-American propaganda.

Maj. Gen. Harry G. Armstrong, chief surgeon of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, and Maj. Gen. Alvin L. Gorby, surgeon general of the U.S. Army's European command, challenged the report today.

Armstrong said:

"Much careful research has gone into the development of poliomyelitis vaccine over many years. All research to date has shown the vaccine to be safe and effective.

"Repeated investigations on not only poliomyelitis vaccines and infections but also other virus diseases do not show a person will become a carrier of the disease.

"The World Health Organization and many other countries such as Great Britain and Denmark have accepted and confirmed the findings of American medical researchers concerning the safety and effectiveness of poliomyelitis vaccines."

Gorby said: "I feel it is not true that inoculated children are bacteria carriers."

He declared the U.S. Army recommended Salk vaccine for Army

Most Americans Know At Least 1 Cancer Symptom

According to a recent survey of 7,000 persons in 38 states, 59 per cent of those interviewed knew at least one danger signal of cancer, George Rorex, chairman of the current fund campaign of the Ouachita Unit of the American Cancer Society, has pointed out as evidence that the Society's education program is paying off.

This indicates a gain of eight per cent in persons informed about cancer's danger signals since 1948, Rorex stated.

As evidence that the public is becoming more aware of the value of detection examinations in early diagnosis and treatment of cancer, Rorex pointed out that seven per cent are now visiting clinics and that 24 per cent are being examined by their own doctors. Eight years ago surveys indicated that only three per cent had detection examinations at clinics and only 11 per cent were examined by private physicians, he observed.

"Fight cancer with a check-up and a check. Join your neighbors in helping to keep the 'Neighbor-to-Neighbor' envelopes moving," Rorex urged.

Bradley, Smith To Be Witnesses At Air Inquiry

WASHINGTON, April 13 — UP —Chairman Stuart Symington announced Friday that two top Army generals of World War II will be the lead-off witnesses when the Senate Armed Services subcommittee opens an air power study next week.

The Missouri Democrat said Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, two retired generals who helped defeat Hitler's forces in Europe, will testify Monday morning.

Bradley, later Army chief of staff, and Smith, who later served as director of the Central Intelligence Agency, are now retired.

Scientists Find 'Instant' Method Of Ripening Fruit

DALLAS, Tex., April 13 (AP)— A method for instant, artificial ripening of green fruits and vegetables, through radiation, was predicted today by an Army Quartermaster Corps chemist.

The fruits and vegetables could be picked green, shipped anywhere, then ripened by beams of radiation, he said. No canning or freezing would be needed. Initial research indicates the process can be developed practically.

Dr. Malcolm C. Henry of the Pioneering Research Division, Quartermaster Corps' Research and Development Command, Natick, Mass., described the possibilities at the close of the American Chemical Society's 129th national meeting. Dr. Torsten Hasselstrom, of the same division, was co-author of the report.

The instant ripening clue came during research to sterilize foods with a beam of electrons from a two-million-electron-volt Van de Graaff accelerator.

The chemists found this radiation produced the same kind of chemical changes in certain fruits as occur when the fruit ripens naturally.

Green apples for example, contain acetic acid, giving such apples their sour taste. In ripening, this acid changes into other acids giving the apple some of its characteristic flavor and aroma.

Radiation changes acetic acid into the same group of acids. So Irradiation can be used, in effect, to ripen fruit instantly, Dr. Henry said.

Prince Miffed By Cameramen; Bans Wedding Pictures

MONTE CARLO, April 13 (AP) — Prince Rainier III decreed today that news photographers will be barred from his civil marriage to Grace Kelly in the throne room of his palace next week.

He apparently was provoked by what both he and Miss Kelly indicated they considered unmannerly harassment by the cameramen when they drove to his sister's villa for lunch.

A communique announced that only the three official photographers will be permitted to record the civil ceremony on Wednesday.

Grey skies and showers failed to spoil the idyllic mood of the Prince and his film star fiancee this morning when they strolled hand-in-hand through the palace gardens overhanging the Mediterranean, then set off in his car for the home of his sister, Princess Antoinette, in the nearby village of Eze. Rainier was at the wheel.

But their happy faces turned grim, when, on the return trip, they were halted by a roadblock of photographers, one of whom actually lay in the road to prevent the car passing.

Rainier had refused requests for photographs at the family party at Princess Antoinette's. His father, Prince Pierre de Monaco, and Grace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly, were other guests.

Rebuffed, the cameramen waited around a bend down the

Brigadier Joins In Marine Probe

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., April 13 —UP—A brigadier general was added Friday to a Marine Corps board of inquiry looking into the "disciplinary" march death of six Marine recruits so that the court will not be outranked by any witnesses called up for testimony.

Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine Corps commandant, announced the addition of Brig. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, assistant division commander of the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C., to the board as senior member.

The court is looking into the Sunday night death mrch ordered by S-Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, 31, who called his platoon out of the barracks and led them into the tide-swollen, chilly waters of Ribbon Creek. Six Marine "boots" drowned.

Negro Student At LSU Convicted On Morals Charge

BATON ROUGE, April 13 (AP)— District Judge Jess Johnson today convicted a 28-year-old Negro graduate university student on charges of soliciting for prostitutes.

East Baton Rouge Parish jail records identified him as Raymond Henry of Litroe, in Union Parish.

He received a 30-day jail term and a $100 fine.

Henry was charged with soliciting white employes of an ice company in North Baton Rouge for two Negro prostitutes.

Louisiana State University suspended Henry when he was arrested March 11 and expelled him following the court verdict today.

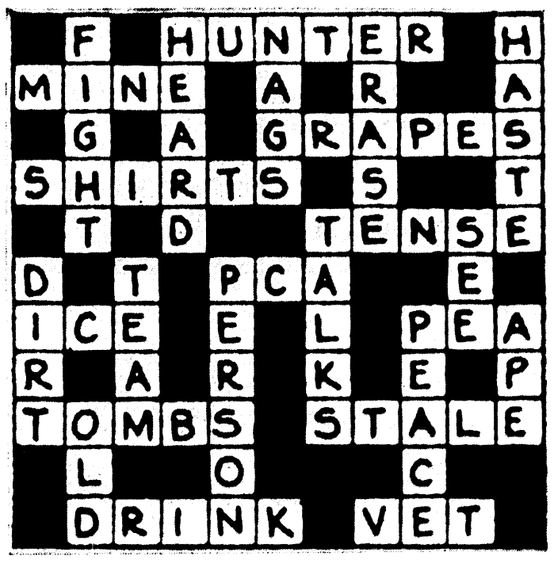
Entry Tempo Increases In World's Puzzle Contest; Jackpot Untouched



BY BONANZA BILL

Competition for the Morning World's cross word puzzle jackpot is gaining in tempo, but no one came up with the correct answers this week.

That means that $25 will be added to the jackpot which totaled $350, and the $375 will be offered for the solution to the upzzle to be published next week in the Monday and Tuesday editions of the World.

Here are explanations of the more difficult clues to this week's puzzle:

Education Stressed At Forestry Meet As Best Weapon Against Fires

NEW ORLEANS, April 13 (AP)—Speakers at the first Southern Forest Fire Prevention Conference today stressed education as a prime means of cutting the South's staggering losses from forest fires.

The conference, endorsed by the Southern Governors Conference, opened a two-day meeting with some 1200 judges, district attorneys and other public and business leaders present.

Broader laws covering forest arson and strict enforcement were other points mentioned.

Editor Frank Ahlgren of the Memphis, Tenn., Commercial Appeal, said every organization in the South should be brought into the fight to stop wildfire destruction.

"The people of the South have the will to do the right thing," he said. "We at this conference should go home and give them that leadership to lick the forest fire problems."

Ahlgren said that 50 per cent of the known arson cases in woodlands in three southern states involve juveniles.

He called for more action on the part of the public to see that forest fire laws are enforced.

"If the arsonists, the crank or prankster could be made to realize that the offense he commits will call for unrelenting prosecution and stiff prison sentences commensurate with the enorminity of the crime, I believe there will be a noticeable lessening of offenses," Ahlgren said.

"If our legislators should sincerely study the problem and our enforcement agencies understand the chain of distress these fires bring about, there should be a determined effort to stamp them out."

James E. Mixon, Louisiana state forester, said the woods burning problem "must be tackled with a brutal thoroughness."

"If laws need more teeth let's install extra teeth," he said.

He said it costs $40 an hour on the average to fight a fire in southern woods, "much more to fight a fire started by arsonists who set as many as 100 fires at one time on high windy days during the peak of a drought."

"I say give the general public the true stody of fire in our southern woods and don't worry about the reaction. Nobody but God can fathom human reactions for a certainty," he said.

District Attorney Boyce Holleman of Wiggins, Miss., said 85 per cent of all forest fires in the nation are in the South, and that 94 per cent of the intentionally set forest fires are in the South.

He said information on the forest fire threat to the South must be "imparted over and over again to the public, to citizens everywhere and particularly to the rising generations."

"We have made and are making great progress in that direction," he said.

He recommended that all states follow Mississippi's example and make woods burning a felony instead of a misdemeanor.

Richard E. McArdle, chief of the U.S. Forest Service, said the fight against forest fires "seem to get bigger and bigger all the time."

He said 28 million acres in the South still don't have organized protection.

Youths 'Invade' Arab Consulate In New York City

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—More than a score of Jewish boys and girls invaded the Egyptian consulate on Park Avenue today. They sat on the floor of a lounge for an hour, chanting and praying.

A spokesman said the youths—most of them 15 or 16 years old—were protesting the slaying in Israel Wednesday of three children and their rabbi, allegedly by Arab forces.

The invaders, the boys wearing skull caps, claimed membership in a Zionist youth organization, Brit Trumpeldor of America.

Two of the girls distracted a guard at the consulate gate with conversation while 22 members of the youth band slipped into the building at 79th St. and Park Ave.

Said Abdel - Mawgoud Hassan, consulate press attache:

"There was a messenger, Mabrouk Mohamed, at the door. They gave him a smack in the face and pushed him aside and rushed into the lounge."

Hassan called the invasion an act of gangsterism and described the young people as "Israelis under the guise of American citizens."

Police eventually forced the demonstrators to leave the consulate.

Margaret Truman En Route Home For Her Wedding

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—Margaret Truman left by pink cloud and railroad tonight for Independence, Mo., where she will wed newspaperman Clifton Daniel April 21.

"You mean you can't see this pink cloud I'm walking around on?" she asked, with a fond look at her fiance.

The cloud was there all right, radiating from the smiles of the happy couple.

Daniel, debonair assistant to the foreign news editor of The New York Times, showed he was just a country boy at heart by declining to kiss his bride-to-be in public.

"When you see your girl-friend off, you don't have a gang around," he demurred.

And the former President's daughter revealed that even a girl who once lived in the White House must face the almost universal problem of apartment hunting.

No luck yet, Miss Truman said, "but we're really going to look in earnest when we get back."

Gen. Norstad To Succeed Gruenther As NATO Chief

WASHINGTON, April 13 —UP— President Eisenhower, in a major shift in the free world's military command, Friday named Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad to succeed Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther as supreme Allied commander in Europe.

Gruenther, at 57 one of America's most respected soldiers, asked to be retired from the Army for personal reasons. He will be succeeded as commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces by Norstad, a 49-year-old airman who rose rapidly through the ranks as a brilliant strategist.

The surprise shift will take place toward the end of this year. Military and diplomatic observers saw Norstad's appointment to the vital post as a symbol of the growing dominance of airpower throughout the world.

The shift was announced at Augusta, Ga., where Mr. Eisenhower is vacationing. The chief executive has regarded Gruenther as one of his most able aides since they served together in Europe in World War II.

Mr. Eisenhower is known to have equally high confidence in the slender and dynamic Norstad.

Gruenther's retirement came as a surprise, although he has been ailing for some time and underwent a bladder operation in December. He had been regarded as a possible Army chief of staff.

Some congressmen, including Rep. Thurmond Chatham (D-N.C.) have cited Gruenther as possible future presidential timber.

Mr. Eisenhower told Gruenther in a letter that the American people and the European allies appreciate his "unique quality of leadership" and the "effectiveness" of his efforts to build up NATO forces.

Gruenther served as Mr. Eisenhower's deputy when the chief executive was NATO commander.

Norstad's appointment was believed to have placed him out of the running as a candidate for Air Force chief of staff. The term of Gen. Nathan F. Twining, present chief, expires in June, 1957.

Norstad, one of the youngest men ever to rise to the rank of general (at the age of 36), is in the same age bracket as two other prominent airmen — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, strategic air commander, and Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, commander of Far East Air Forces.

Stock Market Resists Pressure, Makes Advance

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—The stock market resisted the pressure of a higher discount rate today and made a modest advance.

The Federal Reserve Board yesterday after the close authorized a rate of 3 per cent in two districts and 2¾ in nine districts while permitting it to remain unchanged at 2½ per cent in one area.

Higher money rates on borrowing by member banks from the central bank system are regarded as a step to stem inflation. It was the fifth rate increase in the last year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 60 cents at $88.90. The industrial component of the average was up 80 cents and rails were ahead $1.30 while utilities dropped back 30 cents.

There was an even division between gains and losses—477 issues each—out of the 1,191 issues traded. There were 60 new highs and 64 new lows for the year.

Volume came to 2,450,000 shares, a distinct fall from yesterday's 2,700,000 shares.

Brokers felt that the market acted fairly well today in the face of the higher discount rate, although the advance was not robust by any means. Then, too, the market earlier in the week had declined sharply in anticipation of the Federal Reserve action.

Corporate bonds were lower as were U.S. government issues traded over the counter.

A prominent economist says that in order to keep business booming, people will have to buy cars at a much faster rate than at present. Well, come on fellows — let's keep business booming, even if it bankrupts us.

Many a relativitist could explain how both the Arabs and Israelis can fire first in every outbreak of fighting in the Gaza strip.

and come Sunday many a man will be almost disguised from recognition by his best friends when he sallies forth on DeSiard street with a top covering that came from Panama, or wherever they make 'em and put in that Panama label.

Some men are alergic-guess that's what they are — to straw hats. When you ask 'em if it isn't time to don good cool headgear, they put on a sadden look and mutter "I never did wear such a hat and I won't start now. A felt hat suits me well enough!" There's no use in arguing with a chap like that it would be time and breath wasted in trying to make a convert out of him.

Down in Alexandria yesterday they tried a guessing game on Straw Hat Day. It all revolved around a 900 pound block of ice to melt far enough to release a straw hat. This stunt was started by Chamber of Commerce members of the Alexandria Retail Merchants Division.

Both the block of ice and the straw hat were parts of a two-day promotion. Nine stores collaborated to freeze a straw hat in a 900 lb. block of ice. The person guessing nearest to the correct time that the hat gets released will get a $50 cash gift. The ice is stationed on a platform at the city hall and there the populace is making their time estimates. It's a lot of fun if it is all foolishness.

In a little city of 2,500 population, a minister was entertaining a week end guest, a man from a distant city.

The guest became concerned about the city's facilities, when informed that there were but two physicians and no hospital of any kind available.

"What would you ever do if an epidemic should occur?" the visitor asked of his host.

"That would be easy, just put them in the church. There is where now each and every Sunday, 300 are taking a morning nap during the preaching service."

Men in the U. S. Army, were being given some rough training which comprised swimming the angry waters of a river, climbing an almost straight up and down cliff, penetrating a way through barbed wire entanglements and climbing up a peak with full equipment on a man's back.

When the task was completed and the men were plenty weary, an officer asked a man from the Ozark mountain region back home how he liked it all.

"Gosh that aint nothing! We have to go through almost as bad as that when we go from the house to the barn every day!" he responded.

Sunday will be a great day for district 26, Louisiana State Council of Knights of Columbus for the Monroe council will act as host. The handsome new Knights of Columbus headquarters on Oliver Road will be thrown open for the occasion and the affair is to be dedicated to honor the Most Rev. Charles P. Grego, D.D., State Chaplain of Knights of Columbus who is observing his tenth anniversary of his appointment as Bishop of the Diocese of Alexandria.

Fully 300 to 400 from Knights of Columbus groups in New Orleans, Vicksburg, Natchez, and cities and towns of North Louisiana are expected as guests for the affair.

Among those who will attend and take active part on the program are Everett Collins, New Orleans, State Deputy; S. Everett Burgoyne, State Secretary, Monroe; George M. Tonore, District Deputy; J. I. Braud, Grand Knight of the local council; Alfred Gallagher, Membership Chairman and Floyd Landry, Baton Rouge, District Deputy.

5 More Arrests Made After Grand Jury's Report

The Ouachita parish sheriff's department made five more arrests yesterday following close on the heels of 57 indictments reported by the parish grand jury on Wednesday.

Susie Kiper, 2213 Breard, and Mattie Lee Ricks, 106 Manassas, Monroe were arrested on perjury indictments, sheriff Bailey Grant stated. The Kiper woman's bond was set at $500. The Ricks woman's at $1,000.

Roosevelt Reed, Sr., 1611 Wood street, Monroe, was arrested on a theft indictment and was released on a $750 bond.

Louise Johnson, 114 S. 27th street and John Butler, 16B Texas avenue, were apprehended on disturbing the peace indictments, Sheriff Grant said. Both were in jail in lieu of $500 bonds.

The grand jury on Wednesday reported 57 true bills, 11 no true bills and pretermitted three cases.

Projected Expansion By Olin Mathieson

The Olin Mathieson Corporation, which recently purchased the Brown Paper Mill plant and equipment in West Monroe, has announced tentative plans for a three-year expansion program involving an outlay of perhaps $40 million.

The announcement was made by Robert H. Evans, general manager of the company's Forest Products Division. It is subject to ratification by the company's General Officers and Board of Directors.

This expansion means a great deal to the people of Northeast Louisiana, and the Twin Cities. If carried out—as in all likelihood it will be—the doubling of the present 650-ton daily capacity of the paper mil should mean more jobs, by the hundreds, in a direct line of employment, and many more jobs indirectly—as such big projects always do.

Olin Mathieson's announcement reveals, moreover, a faith and confidence in the Twin Cities as a center of paper milling operations that is highly gratifying to the people and the businessmen and civic leaders.

The company, during its few months as new owner of the paper mill, has been confronted with many problems involving personnel and apparently has acted to solve these problems in a spirit of justice and equity and good will; and already it has earned locally a reputation for "straight shooting" and extreme fairness in its dealings generally, toward its employes and the public.

Olin Mathieson, in other words, is discharging its duties and responsibilities with praiseworthy regard for the good of the community. And we, as dwellers in the Twin Cities area, deeply appreciate this fact; and it is up to us to reciprocate to the fullest extent possible, and make all newly arrived officials and employes of the company feel at home in our midst.

This is the biggest industry in the Twin Cities, and through outstanding advertisements being run in national publications by Olin Mathieson our favored area already is receiving splendid publicity, as present headquarters of Mr. Evans' division, Forest Products.

On behalf of the Twin Cities and Northeast Louisiana, The Morning World extends to Olin Mathieson congratulations and best wishes on its acquisition of the paper mill properties; and voices the community hope that here, in time, may arise one of the great paper-milling industries of America.

Ocean Salt And Tooth Decay

Four scientists at the American Chemical Society's annual meeting in Dallas, Texas, this week reported that users of ocean salt often escape such ills as rickets, goiter, anemia and tooth decay.

Ocean salt, they pointed out, contains not only the sodium chloride of pure mineral table salt, but also the "spices" such as iron, calcium, fluoride and iodine, along with rare minerals that seem to be highly important to bodily well-being.

Dwellers along the ocean-beds, where ocean salt is used, show astonishing resistance to various ailments, the panel of scientists led by Dr. Arnold E. Schaefer of the National Institute of Health declared.

Athwart the sea-lanes of India, for instance, there are districts where tooth decay is far less prevalent than in Boston, Massachusetts.

As a matter of fact, medicine and dentistry not well able so far to give the causes of tooth decay;

Thousands of natives living in the bush, who never saw a toothbrush or brushed their teeth in their lives, have better teeth than we in America—and keep them longer without cavities or distress.

Fewer Farmers, More Production

With debate on farm problems continuing over an extended period of time, more people are becoming interested in the controversy, more surveys are being conducted, and more facts are coming to light to help explain what is happening to the farms. These facts should enable lawmakers and others to inject more objectivity into possible remedies.

One such report recently completed presents an excellent illustration of mistakes which could be made by hastily drawn conclusions. Figures released by the U. S. Department of Commerce reveal that in the period of 1949-1954 there was a loss of almost 600,000 farms in the U. S., or about 11 per cent of the total.

To those in the habit of making snap judgments without investigating the matter further, these figures would be conclusive proof that 600,000 farmers were forced to sell because of sagging farm incomes or more attractive offers elsewhere. Undoubtedly some of these did fall into this category. Even the most prosperous industries, and farming at the present time is not one of them, have a certain percentage of individual failures.

But mergers are the largest single factor responsible for the diminishing number of farms. These mergers are the result of the machine age on the farm, just as other parts of the nation have undergone their industrial revolutions. Today's farmer is able to till far greater acreage than his ancestors, and wherever possible he is expanding.

Nor are large corporation farms responsible for the mergers. Statistics from the Department of Agriculture prove medium and large family farms in the 160 to 320 acre class turn out the bulk of farm output.

It is true that the number of farmers and farms is decreasing, but it does not follow that the number of acres being tilled is decreasing in the same ratio. Perhaps when all the positive data is collected, the bleak picture conjectured through hasty conclusions will be overruled by more sober reasoning.

Scientists have found the skull of a woman said to be 20,000 years old, but it's a safe bet the figure didn't originate with her.

It is still the law in Opelousas, La., that every merchant must maintain a hitching rack in front of his store. The law is not enforced.

THESE DAYS

By George Sokolsky

38-24-38

Something new has come into the world. It reminds me of the Circassian slave markets where men bid for concubines and harlots after examining the chattel. This new thing is a set of three figures which appears in news stories and which apparently are the physical measurements of women.

I do not quite know how the reporters go about getting such measurements, as I have only been in this business 39 years and have never measured a woman. Maybe they carry tapes with them and whenever they see a woman, they fall upon her measuring her various places for size. Or perhaps they interview her on the subject, asking politely, "Can you tell me what your size is around the hips and including your thighs?" Or perhaps the modest female employs a press agent who has her measurements all neatly printed on a calling card.

I am surprised that no one gives ankle measurements; the length of the legs; the over-all weight and similar data. Perhaps that will come some day when we reach the point when somebody will set up a bargain counter for the purchase of women to do strip teases or for some other occupation where measurements are interesting.

Believe me, I am not a prude. I have lived in parts of the world where men and women wear as little clothes as possible because it is hot. I have seen millions of women suckle their babies at organs of immense dimensions. There was something beautiful and natural about that. This new and current obsession with a girl's measurements, put into a news story, seems to me to be vulgar, even degenerate and a mark of a decaying civilization.

It is necessary to give some thought to this because history is replete with the story of nations that once were great and that collapsed because the morals of the race ceased to control the lives of the people. No nation has had a longer continuous existence as a State than China; yet the past century of China's history has been tale of degradation due to the degeneration of the people by opium, the heavy weight of plural marriage and the corruption of officials which developed into a system of administration .China collapsed not in 1949 when Chiang Kai-shek fled to Formosa but in the 1850s and 1860s, after the ravages of the Taiping and other rebellions. A nation cannot stand firm when any considerable part of its population becomes degenerate.

These measurement figures in news stories, excluding all concepts of both modesty and privacy, must be taken as symptomatic of an era when the bars are let down. Sir Harold Nicolson has just published a book, "Good Behaviour," which deals with the varieties of good manners in various periods from ancient times to the present and no matter how you look at it, manners are the expression of morals in action. When manners disappear, it must mean that morals have become so weakened that social pressures do not exert much, if any, influence upon those who are not self-restrained but require some external influence to keep them in bounds. Surely, it cannot be good manners, even if no immoralities are involved. to discuss a woman's measurements—the bust, the waistline and the hips—as though she were a horse.

These are all little things, but they are the weathervanes which establish which way the storm is moving. It is so curious that at a time when Soviet Russia has gone puritanical in self-defense against the weakening of its people, we, in a country founded by Puritans and Pilgrims, have lost our bearings.

It is possible to over emphasize politics, to attribute all our advantages and all our woes to political action. It is as much an error to devote our thinking exclusively to a political interpretation of events as to an economic interpretation of the course of history. There are other forces and currents that move men, some even imponderable and subconscious. Certainly, the moral basis for life in any country is important in any analysis of the life of the people of that country. And the manners of men and women give a clue to what they regard as important. Surely, it cannot be good manners to write about a young lady—

"Jane Smith, 26, 36-22-34, opened last night in the Last Hope Restaurant."

Labor's Favorite Candidates

Political campaigning by organized labor is off to a fresh start this year, with a new collection and spending agency to handle the money. As one veteran labor official said, "This time we're in with both feet," meaning that the united AFL-CIO expects to display its combined strength in support of favorite candidates.

The new political arm of the united labor organizations beats the dignified title, "Committee on Political Education," with initials spelling COPE, which labor officials regard as a singularly appropriate designation.

Even in its initials, the new agency represents a marked advance over the old Political Action Committee of CIO, which was million vote margin Senator Robert A. Taft won by in Ohio, when organized labor went all out of defeat him for sponsoring the Taft-Hartley act.

COPE has already improved upon its predecessor in publicity, which is calm and thoughtful as compared with the diatribes of PAC. But its goal is the same. More than 600,000 labor leaders over the country are enrolled as fund collectors, with each being given a book containing ten cards, intended as receipts for donations by union members.

The directors of COPE start with the suggestion that each union member give at least $1 which would amount to $15,000,000. However, contributions can not be made obligatory, as are union dues which may not be used for campaign contributions. Since both unions and corporations are barred by law from making direct contributions to any political party or candidate, COPE makes the sales argument to union members that the only way they can support labor's voice in Congress is by contributing to the general election campaign fund, which this year may be exceeding $5,000,000. In the 1954 congressional campaigns, forty one labor committees reported campaign expenditures of $2,057,613 in behalf of individual candidates. That figured at less than 14 cents a member.

Labor chiefs said then that it is much more difficult to raise money for a congressional than a presidential campaign, though most of the money in both instances is spent to support congressional candidates. However, COPE methods are expected to be more systematic and all embracing than those of PAC, and its total contributions are expected to be correspondingly larger.

Since labor supports many more Democrats than Republicans, the bulk of the funds collected will go to Democratic candidates for Congress. COPE's first expenditure however, will be to send copies of voting records of members of Congress to 15,000,000 union members, indicating whether those records are good or bad from labor's viewpoint.

What organized labor can do for those it endorses is demonstrated by the case of Senator Paul H. Douglas (Dem.-Ill) who was hard up for campaign contributions in 1954 in his campaign against Republican Joseph R. Meek, until labor groups came to his aid with $35,000. He defeated Meek by approximately 150,000.

Organized labor's pre-campaign favorite was Adlai Stevenson, but since the primaries began, sentiment for Senator Estes Kefauver has rolled up. Labor groups as such contribute no money to primary campaigns, so far as recorded.

One difficulty, which labor chiefs privately admit this year is to keep the rank and file in line for the candidates whom COPE will subsequently endorse. Many union members particularly on the AFL side, think welll of President Eisenhower Individuals' contributions involve no pledge to support any candidate and endorsements of specific candidates are made by the union councils, mostly at state or local levels, with weighty guidance from Washington headquarters.

One of the COPE chairmen is Jack Kroll of Cincinnati who directed the unsuccessful battle against Taft in 1950. This year Kroll is emphasizing the big Republican war chest being raised for Republican members of Congress, though that is not the COPE line, since the organization emphasized that it is non-partisan.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 13 (AP) —A Pulaski Circuit Court jury today agreed with a 41-year-old Negro that a Little Rock detective had beat him and awarded him $1 in compensatory damages and $1 in punitive damages.

He had asked $25,000 compensatory and $25,000 punitive damages.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

A Matter Of Pattern

Dad and Mom sat silently in the living room, doing nothing at all, just sitting in brooding silence. The boy down the lane, home from colledge for the holidays, would never go back to college. He would be buried in the churchyard next day. He had attended a cocktail party until he and four other boys decided to go to a party in a roadhouse some miles out of town. On the way, the car got out of control and that was that.

Looking through the long room where they sat, this father and mother could see their boy who was about to be graduated next June and be on his way through college. Beside him sat his sister deep in her books. Soon she, too, would be in college. How would it be with these children when they were on their own? So far they seemed to have their feet on the ground, but afterward? How about the cocktail parties, and the rest?

"I'm thinking," said Dad finally, "about this drinking business. The Yale survey learned that the children who came from homes where the parents drank were the ones who drank, mostly. Our kids don't drink so far. Maybe it would be a good idea if we did not use the stuff. Did not have it in the house and took a stand on it here in the family."

"It wouldn't give me a moment's grief if we did," said Mom. "It's a bargain. No drinks, no matter who comes or goes. I hate the house smelling like a bar, anyway."

Why cocktail parties, anyway? Isn't it rather an odd way to have a pleasant evening or afternoon with friends? Sometimes it looks as if the hostess were so short on ideas that this was the only way she knew to entertain her guests. What a reflection the whole idea can be on the culture and intelligence of the guests; that drinking and drinking and drinking again is the only thing they can be expected to enjoy, as if they were all stomach and no mind worth speaking to!

What has happened to music, conversation, the pleasure of meeting a friend and sharing his thoughts and experiences? What has happened to the pretty ceremony of serving tea, little cakes and sweets? What has dampened the idea that people have minds and enjoy using them on each other?

Whatever it is, the effect on our young people can be tragic. They all drive cars and they all know that they cannot mix alcohol with the power of a car. The car has no mind, but the driver has. If he mixed the alcohol into the fiber of his brain, then his mind has been diluted and it cannot furnish brains to the car.

Children follow pattern. In such cases as we saw last holiday time, the pattern parents set is vital. After all, a drink is just a drink—but a young life? Priceless!

You should never tease a bashful child. Dr. Patri discusses why children are bashful and tells what to do about it in his leaflet P-9, "Bashful Children." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, in care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Annette is infatuated. She gets "butterflies" in her stomach when she kisses her sweetheart. But it is safer to pick a man who can put "butter" therein throughout the years ahead! For your future children will profit far more from butter than your temporary romantic butterflies. Besides, you can teach yourself to fall in love anew in a few months.

Case R.-330: Annette S., aged 20, wants to get married immediately.

"Dr. Crane, I am madly in love," she admitted, "and I want to get married at once, but my parents veto my choice.

"They say Ted will never be able to support me, for he has no trade or profession and just drifts from one job to another.

"But I love him, and isn't love the main thing that counts! No other man has ever affected me like this.

"Why, I just feel bubbly inside whenever I hear his voice on the telephone and I get 'butterflies' in my stomach every time he kisses me.

"Surely our marriage would be successful if I feel this way, wouldn't it!"

Annette is talking like a girl who has absorbed too much moonlight on a romantic night.

For moonlight and moonshine can both produce intoxication until their victims cannot employ good logic.

Everybody who is thus ardently in love, needs to lean over backwards to distinguish between infatuation versus true love.

For physical infatuation can also make your pulse zoom and put those "butterflies" in your stomach.

But many a man who can cause "butterflies" in your stomach cannot put the necessary "butter" therein during the years ahead.

When you pick a husband, you are selecting the father of your future unborn children. And they'll be more in need of butter than butterflies in their tummy.

So it behooves a girl to listen to her parents and friends. And also to rate her prospective mate by the tests named below.

For infatuation makes us careless of details. When we are ahead over heels in love, we react to a few striking elements in the other person's physical make-up, but gloss over logical items, even though the latter are critical.

Annette thus was inclined to ignore the fact that her fiance was heavily in debt for gambling debts.

He was so callous that he had borrowed money from Annette, as well as from her circle of friends.

Anybody whom he could "touch" for a 5-spot, was fair prey for him. He was a chronic gambler who still held the juvenile attitude that a man can WIN success in life instead of EARNING it.

That's a poor marriage prospect, so I sided with Annette's parents and vetoed her quick marriage.

Girls, you can fall in love with many men! So don't think you will never again experience love and "butterflies" in your stomach if you give up an obviously unfit present suitor.

And don't be a slave to printed wedding invitations. It is much simpler to back out of a wrong marriage, even on the actual wedding day, than to go through a divorce later on.

For your unborn children will not suffer from a broken wedding arrangement. But they certainly will be harmed by feuding parents and a divorce.

"But how can I get him out of my mind if I give him up?" Annette tearfully asked.

Definitely NOT by rereading his old love letters or hugging his picture as she cries herself to sleep each night.

Instead, make a clean break. Burn the letters. Return his picture. Start a new life. And, most important of all, start dating other boys AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

Pick a new escort and act gay even though your heart is leaden. Soon you'll feel gay, too.

Act the way you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act!

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. They help you apply the "butter" test to supplement those "butterflies" in your stomach.

Just Give Me Time

I WISH I could impress you, dear
. . . With something I had done
. . . Supported by a loving cup . . . Or medal I had won . . .
But I am not that capable . . . And I am not so bright . . .
Although I have the confidence . . . Someday to reach that height . . . Because your love is giving me . . . The courage that I need . . . To keep on trying harder and . . . Eventually succeed . . . Just give me time to work it out . . . And keep your faith in me . . . And if I stumble on the way . . . Lend me your sympathy . . . Someday I will present you with . . . A loving cup of gold . . . And all the cause for pride in me . . . Your heart could ever hold.

Cotton

New York

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) —Cotton futures closed 5 cents a bale higher to $2.10 lower today, with only nearby May showing a gain. Uncertainity over the fate of the farm bill brought in general selling.

Support came through down trade buying and short covering.

Spot firms liquidated nearby May contracts mostly on a scale up basis. The May open interest at the start today was down to 255,500 bales, with six more trading sessions before first notice day. A leading spot firm sold more than 3,000 bales of May contracts.

In early dealings, some large blocks of futures changed hands, including purchases of 10,000 bales of December by one broker and sale of 5,000 bales of December by another.

Futures closed 5 cents a bale hgher to $2.10 lower than the previous close.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

The boost in the rediscount rate announced after the market closed Thursday had little effect on prices. This move had been long expected in Wall street. Otherwise, business news was favorable.

A number of large blocks appeared on the tape in the first few minutes of dealings, but once this overnight business was out of the way, trading turned dull.

Tubeless tires will be made standard equipment on all Studebaker Transtar trucks starting May 1, William A. Keller, Studebaker division general sales manager, announced yesterday.

Keller said the move was in line with Studebaker's truck engineering program to bring along product advances without waiting for new models. He pointed out that the announcement follows closely the initial availability of non-slip differentials on the company's half-ton trucks.

Drug chain sales across the nation showed an average increase of 9.1 per cent for the month of February, 1956, as compared to the same period a year ago, setting an all-time high for sales in any previous February. This report is the result of a nationwide sales survey conducted by Chain Store Age. The survey covered 78 chains operating 2,010 stores.

Gamma Zeta Becomes Phi Mu Chapter

National officials of Phi Mu Sorority Saturday will install a chapter of the organization at Northeast State in ceremonies at the Virginia Hotel.

Mrs. Landon Freear of Fort Worth and Miss Susan Stiles of Atlanta will direct activities in completing the formation of the chapter, which gives national recognition to members of the organization formerly known as Gamma Zeta.

The installation will be a signal event for the college since it marks the initial appearance of a national social sorority on the campus.

Monroe alumnae, under the presidency of Mrs. Helen Hawley, have been sponsoring the movement to form the Northeast chapter. Working with them are Mrs. Freear, past national president and currently Pan-Hellenic Council Conference delegate, and Miss Stiles national field secretary.

Installation ceremonies are planned to begin Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel, and a banquet will be featured during the evening.

Newly-initiated members will attend Sunday morning church services at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe. Bridal Parties Center Around Miss Eppinette

Miss Loretta Eppinette, whose marriage to Julius G. Wink will be an event of Sunday, April 22 in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in West Monroe, has been entertained at a series of prenuptial parties during the past week. Among the courtesies honoring Miss Eppinette were teas given by Mrs. Malcolm LeFevre, Mrs. Wayne Gentry and Mrs. E. L. Harris and a barbecue supper hosted by Mrs. A. J. Lester.

White daisies and yellow day lilies were noted throughout the Malcolm LeFevre home when Mrs. LeFevre entertained for Miss Eppinette.

Miss Eppinette chose for the party a black and orchid ensemble complemented by a white iris and split carnation corsage presented by the hostess. Mrs. LeFevre received guests in a brown and white linen model.

Among the guests calling between 3 and 5 o'clock were Miss Faye Parker, Miss Joann Gaster, Miss Sylvia Gould, Miss Janice Frazier, Miss Carole Eady and Miss Lyndell Wells.

Tuesday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock Mrs. Wayne Gentry and Mrs. E. L. Harris were hostesses at a tea in the Gentry home in Monroe.

Receiving with the hostesses and honor guest were Mrs. Luther Eppinette and Mrs. J. D. Wink.

Spring flowers were placed at points of interest in the living and dining areas.

White daisies and a miniature bride and groom centered the refreshment table. Camellias surrounded the punch service.

Mrs. Harris poured punch and Mrs. Marie Thompson served.

Miss Eppinette chose for the party a blue and brown trousseau model and a corsage of white carnations presented by the hostesses.

Guests included Mrs. J. D. Wink, Miss Faye Parker, Miss Peggy Goodson, Miss Sylvia Gould, Miss Janice Frazier, Miss Joann Gaster and Mrs. Marie Thompson.

Miss Eppinette and her fiance, Julius C. Wink were named honor guests at a barbecue supper given by Mrs. A. J. Lester for the TWL Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Mrs. Lester presented the couple with a gift in bride - elect's pattern of silver.

Around twenty guests shared the occasion with the hostess and honor guests.

Health Unit Tax To Be Submitted

RAYVILLE, April 13 (Special)— A proposed tax renewal for support of the parish health unit will be submitted to Richland parish voters in Tuesday's general election.

The proposed tax will not appear on the ballot for the general election officials said but in a separate property bond vote.

The proposal was reported not to entail any tax increase as it will constitute a renewal of te present one mill tax which supports the health unit.

Officials said that the renewal must pass in order for the unit to continue functioning in Richland parish.

Richland parish voters will also cast their ballots for the six proposed constitutional amendments and a Republican candidate for Lt. Governor. Harry R. Hill is opposing the Democratic nominee Lethar E. Frazar.

Class Elections At Tech April 24

RUSTON, April 13 (Special) — Class elections at Louisiana Tech will be held on April 24 with 20 students campaigning for respective offices.

Several candidates are unopposed for class posts. For next year's senior class, Beth Dawkins, of Farmerville, is the only nominee for secretary, and James Dunn, of Hampton, Ark., is the only candidate for treasurer.

For the 1956-57 junior class, Jo Anne Reardon, of St. Joseph, is unopposed for secretary, and Gaile Speight, of Columbia, is the only nominee for treasurer.

Techsters who have announced for the remaining class offices are as follow:

Senior president — Charles Connaughton, Shreveport; John Malmay, West Monroe; and Bill Wheelis, Monroe.

Senior vice - president — Howard Carlton, El Dorado; and Sally Sue Greer, Oak Grove.

Junior president — Paul Odum, Shreveport; Jack Salley, Springhill; and Middleton Shirley, Ruston.

Junior vice - president — Anne Lafitte, Mansfield; Doug Robertson, Shreveport.

Sophomore president — Field Montgomery, Tallulah; Jerry Pate, Shreveport; and Gordon Peters, Winnfield.

The primary election of senior, junior and sophomore class officers will be held in the foyer of Howard auditorium on Tuesday, April 24, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Students will vote only for the officers of their own class.

Union Stand On Segregation Halts Southern Activity

NEW YORK, April 13—UP—The drive to unionize southern labor has been almost halted by workers refusing to join locals because they reject the integration stand of AFL - CIO leaders George Meany and Walter P. Reuther, Business Week magazine said Friday.

"There are widely reported calls for southern workers to secede from the AFL-CIO and form their own, all-white southern labor federation," the current issue said.

It reported that in southern locals already fully or partly integrated, "relations between white and Negro workers have worsened sharply."

All-white unions are being discussed as a possibility in labor circles in Montgomery, Ala.; Memphis, Tenn.; Charleston, S. C.; Birmingham, Ala., and other southern cities, Business Week said.

Strong statements from AFL-CIO top officers, particularly Meany, have antagonized southern workers, the article said.

New Telephone Directories To Be Out April 16

New telephone directories will be distributed in the Twin Cities starting April 16.

Telephone officials pointed out that the large increase in number was indicative of the growth and development of the Twin Cities.

Approxiamiely 28,100 new directories will be delivered to homes and businesses according to Nick Pranovich manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company compared with 26,000 when the present directory was delivered last August.

"Many new and changed listings and telephone numbers will be reflected in our new directory and we sincerely urge our subscribers to consult the directory to avoid dialing wrong numbers" the manager said.

Sixteen Southern states annually suffer a greater monetary loss from wildfires than the entire nation suffers in property loss from organized crime.

Jackets Received By Band Members

WINNSBORO April 13 —(Special) — White jackets trimmed in the school colors of black and gold were awarded to 19 outstanding members of the Winnsboro High School band Thursday.

Band director Herbert E. Gathright said that jacket awards were based on the merit system which was put into use this year. Funds for the jackets were raised by the band students in their annual magazine sales drive.

Jackets will be awarded each year to all band students who have earned the required number of merits.

The first 19 students to be awarded jackets under the new merit system were Burk McDuff, Ward Miller, Sally Ann Roden, Richard Eilerts, Jackie Carpenter, Eugene Griffin, Joe Givens, William Hassell Merrilyn Johnston, Edith Jean Hassell, Yvonne Weems, Mary Ann Givens, Marileon Gravelle, June Wiley, Sherman Ann Smith, Jerry Jones, Phillip Montgomery, Buddy Ritchie and Drew Margaret Hatfield.

Willis Looks For Early Action On Sugar Legislation

WASHINGTON, Apr. 13 (AP)—With the farm bill out of the way, Rep. Willis (D-La) said today he looks for early action on legislation to extend the Sugar Act.

The House passed a sugar bill last year. This year the Senate passed it with some amendments, an action requiring a conference committee to compromise the two versions.

No House conferees have been named, however, so there has been no action on the bill for some three months.

Willis said Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee indicated to him Wednesday after the farm bill cleared he now will ask that House conferees be named for the sugar bill.

He said Cooley indicated he would ask Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) to appoint them early next week.

"I hope the conference committee can start to work by the end of the week," Willis said.

He added, however, that Sen. Byrd (D-Va) — who heads the Senate conferees — is hospitalized and that this might delay matters.

The Sugar Act, which expires at the end of this year, sets up machinery for determining the annual domestic consumption of sugar each year, divides this total among U.S. and foreign producers, and taxes processors for subsidy payments to growers.

The House bill provided that domestic growers should be given 50 per cent of the annual increase in the domestic consumption with foreign producers given the other half. The Senate bill, however, would give domestic growers 55 per cent.

Three Republican Candidates Heard By Women's Club

Clark C. Boardman, E. C. Dansby and Robert Easterling, candidates for the police jury in Ward 10, spoke to members of the Fifth District Republican Women's club Thursday night.

Mrs. E. W. Biegenwald, president, in introducing the candidate, reminded those present that "the general election on a local level is truly historic in that it is the first time, as far as we know, that Republican and Democratic candidates have contested local offices here."

She said in part: "It is not only a step forward in the development of the two-party system, which is fundamental to good government, but the offering for service of exceptionally well qualified candidate is, I trust, a beginning of what we may expect in the future."

The candidates were heartily commended for entering the race and campaigning "on a high level" The club endorsed the candidates last October when they qualified before the parish executive committee.

Stevenson And Kefauver 'Chat' At Florida School

TAMPA, Fla., April 13 — UP— Campaigners Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver bumped into each other and chatted over a couple of cigars here Friday but blew all their smoke at the Eisenhower administration.

Kefauver called for the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson if President Eisenhower signs the farm bill and Stevenson tore into the "big businessman's government" set up by the Republicans.

But the two candidates, trying to outdo each other in handshaking their way to win Florida's 28 votes at the Democratic convention, exchanged only good natured quips when they met accidentally in a schoolyard across from a cigar factory.

They shook hands and pinned each other with campaign buttons to the amusement of a crowd that jammed around them. Eyeing a box of cigars Kefauver clutched under his arm, Stevenson joked, "What does this mean, Estes? You going corrupt on me?"

Stevenson jokingly implied that the Tennessee senator was passing out cigars to gain votes in the Democratic presidential choice primary May 29.

Kefauver described the farm bill passed by Congress this week as a "good bill" and declared it should be administered by "someone who believes in it."

"I hope President Eisenhower will sign the farm bill and that when he does Secretary Benson will resign and be replaced by a new secretary whose views are in harmony with the new law, "Kefauver said.

"As Democrats seeking to win this fall's election, we are better off with Mr. Benson in the Cabinet, but as Americans seeking to restore our farm economy, we would be better off without him," he said.

'Stupid Ideas' On Integration Hit In Panel Session

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — A Jewish editor from North Carolina today labelled as harmful to the cause of integration "such stupid suggestions as a 'mounted police' for the South."

Harry Golden of Charlotte, N.C., editor of The Carolina Israelite, told a panel session at the annual convention of the American Jewish Congress:

"Self-righteousness will not win this fight for democracy. Indeed, it would be disastrous if this search for wisdom were completely obscured by emotionalism, self-righteousness and such stupid suggestions as a 'mounted police' for the South.

"I cannot stress strongly enough that the liberals would be harming the cause of democracy if they somehow lost their line of communication with the great body of Southerners who are as deeply concerned with this problem as they are, and who stand ready to help in the search for wisdom which will lead us to the elimination of discrimination and racial segregation, and secondclass citizenship."

About 1,000 delegates are attending the five-day AJC convention, now in its third day.

The AJC's annual Stephen Wise Award was presented to Prof. Franz Boehm, a Frankfurt University president and a member of the West German Parliament. Accompanying the bronze plaque was a check for $1,000.

Boehm was cited for his untiring efforts to combat anti-semitism in Germany and for his decisive role in negotiating Jewish material claims against Germany." The awards commemorates the late religious leader, who was a founder of the AJC.

Some people have so little pride that they keep and ride in a car for quite some months after they've paid for it.

City Teachers' Association For Amendment No. 5

The Monroe City Teachers Association yesterday announced that it approves and urges the support of voters on Constitutional Amendment Number Five, which with five others will come before voters of the state on April 17.

The amendment is a proposal to increase the debt limit of the Monroe School District to 25 per cent of its assessed valuation. Monroe, along with Bogalusa and Lake Charles, operate city school systems independently of the parish schools. The Monroe school district is empowered to levy taxes in the same manner of parish school district is empowered to levy taxes in the same manner of parish school districts but is has a lower debt limit.

The association pointed out in a resolution it adopted that the district now has power to levy taxes only to 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of property within the city limits, and that a 15 per cent increase of the debt limit would allow for needed physical plants.

You could cut the high cost of living considerably by not buying anything, other than necessities, that costs too much — in other words, by buying only necessities.

Depth Bracket Formula Change To Cut Allowable

BATON ROUGE, April 13 (AP)—Conservation Commissioner John B. Hussey said today an estimated 30,000 barrels would be trimmed from Louisiana's daily oil production allowable for May

There will be a four per cent cut in the "depth bracket" formula used to set allowables, Hussey said. The formula takes into consideration the depth of the well in setting permitted production.

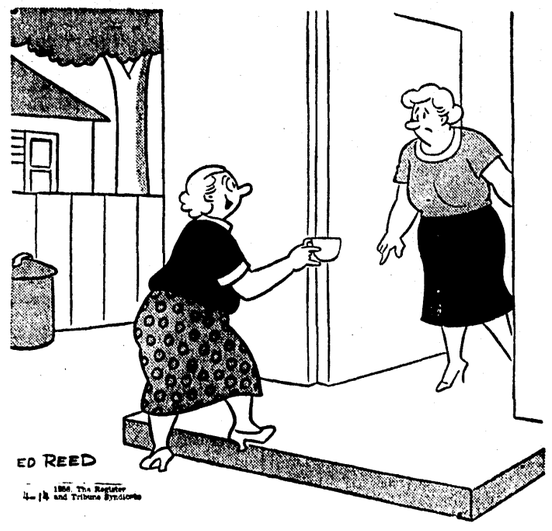
Hussey said the change would mean a gross cut of about 45,000 barrels, but new production is estimated at about 15,000 barrels. Exact figures will be determined at a conservation staff meeting April 23.

The statewide allowable figure for April was a record 788,778 barrels. It had steadily increased since a cut last June because of new production.

Hussey has organized an adothers to work out an equitable visory committee of producers, purchasers, royalty owners and others to work out an equitable method of reducing allowables in the race of increasing production and a limited market.

A New York woman told authorities she murdered her husband because she was disappointed in him. Many believe a woman should have a slightly better excese than that for bumping off her husband.

OFF THE RECORD — By Ed Reed



"I'd like to borrow a cup of money."

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Posture, Important For Appearance Of Bust

Our figures are limited by our structure. For instance, some of us are just naturally longer waisted than others. However, the way we hold ourselves can make a big difference in the distance between our busts and our waists.

Many women go about with their busts practically resting on their ribs. The longer you make this distance between the bust and the hips the lovelier your figure will be.

This settling down in tthe middle is one of the main defects in women from middle age on. Even when sitting you should try to keep this line as long as possible. Otherwise you crowd internal organs, inhibit respiration and promote fatigue, to say nothing of the way you look.

When sitting or standing we should straighten our spines, pull our abdomens in and lift our rib cages. This is the sort of posture which suggests far horizon and gallant living. It has a subconscious effect on us, too. Try to remember this many times each day when you are sitting, standing or walking.

The following exercise will be helpful. Stand tall. Place your shoulders, lifting the elbows. Keep the arms in this position as you straighten your spine, and pull your abdomen in. Lift your rib cage as you bend back slightly. Feel the pull? Hold for a few seconds. Relax and continue.

Take the same starting position. Bend the trunk back to the left. Return to position. Now bend back to the right and return to starting position. Continue, giving plenty of time for the stretch.

No matter what size your bust is it will look about two inches larger when you will hold yourself correctly.

If you would like to have my exercises for increasing the bust measurement send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Killer Of Niece Ruled Incompetent

FORT WORTH, April 13—UP—A 49-year-old bookkeeper who killed his 11-year-old niece near Lebanon, Mo., was declared mentally incompetent Friday by a federal judge.

District Judge Joe Estes ruled that Thurman Priest, of Grand Prairie, Tex., is mentally incompetent and can't be tried on a federal kidnap charge.

Priest was convicted in Missouri of killing his niece, Jeannette Earnest of Irving, Tex., and sentenced to life imprisonment. He will be returned to the Missouri state prison.

Priest lured his niece into his car and drove with her to Lebanon where he killed her. He could give no plausible reason for his act at his trial other than he was infatuated by her.

Three doctors from the U. S. Public Health Service hospital in Fort Worth said they had found Priest mentally incompetent.

Godchaux Sale Becomes Effective

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—The American Stock Exchange stated today that holders of class "A" and class "B" shares of Godchaux Sugars, Inc., of New Orleans, have deposited sufficient shares to make effective the purchase offer made recently by a subsidiary of Webb & Knapp Inc.

The notice added that further deposits of these shares will be receivd by the depositary, Fahnestock & Co. of New York, until noon on April 23.

The exchange pointed out that transactions in the class "A" and "B" Godchaux shares which are made for settlement after April 20 will not entitle the purchasers to receive delivery in time to participate in the offer.

According, members of the exchange who effect purchase of the stocks for deposit under the offer will be required to make such purchases for "next day" delivery beginning April 17 and until and including April 19, and for "cash" on Friday April 20.

Honored Dallas Officer Former W. Monroe Boy

A. B. Hammett, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hammett, of 401 Circle Drive, West Monroe, and police dispatcher for the Dallas Texas Police Department wrote the winning essay on "My Duty" in a department contest.

Hammett was awarded a gold medal at a police awards banquet Tuesday night. The contest is sponsored each year by Federal Judge William H. Atwell.

In addition to being recognized for the essay, Hammett won a $50 award for outstanding work in the service division of the department.

Excerpts of Hammett's winning essay follows:

"I have certain duties to perform as a member of the Dallas Police Department.

"My superior officers are my leaders and I must have full respect for them and carry out their commands to the best of my ability, regardless of the nature of the assignment.

"I must wear my uniform proudly and neatly because it designates me as a protector of the public, a helper of the weak, and as a shield for those in danger. I must conduct myself so as to be a guide and model for the youth of the city as well as a friend to all mankind...

"I must conduct myself at all times and in all places, so as to bring credit to myself, fellow officers and the department...."

Hammett, who attended Ouachita parish high school, has been with the Dallas Police department for about two years. He has been connected with radio dispatching about 19 months.

About 97 per cent of the treaties and agreements among nations since the year 1 might as well have been signed with crossed fingers in disappearing ink.

Okla. Negro Admits Automobile Theft

A 29-year-old Muskogee, Okla., Negro apprehended by Ouachita parish sheriff deputies late yesterday afternoon admitted stealing a car in Oklahoma, but authorities there had no report of the car theft.

Ouachita parish sheriff Bailey Grant identified the Negro as Willie Robinson.

Robinson, apprehended in West Monroe about 4:45 p.m. by deputies, stated that he took the car in Oklahoma, Sheriff Grant said.

A stolen license plate was also found on the vehicle, Sheriff Grant added.

Probably farmers who need help most are certain ones in the midwest whose farms have blown right out from under the mortgages.

V. F. W. Installs Edward Dempsey As Commander

Edward E. Dempsey was installed as commander of the West Monroe Veterans of Foreign War Post Home Tuesday night in a ceremony conducted by W. W. Washburn, 13th District commander.

In a combined ceremony, officers of the VFW Auxiliary and post members installed officers for the coming year. About 70 members attended.

Other officers installed were Mitchell Ebarb, senior vice commander; Alford L. Keith, junior vice commander; Paul R. Kirby, quartermaster; O. E. Leehy, Sr., post chaplain; R. D. Carter, post surgeon; Jeff Caldwell, post judge advocate; Harold W. Stewart, officer of the day; Billy Sullivan, post adjucant; and C. E. Leehy, Jr., a three-year term as trustee.

Mrs. Virginia Cash, 13th district president of the VFW Auxiliary performed installation ceremonies for the auxilary.

Mrs. Thelma Carley was installed as president.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Eleanor Painich, senior vice president; Mrs. Nila Womack, junior vice president; Mrs. Virginia Cash, treasurer; Mrs. Ruby Cash, chaplain; Mrs. Callie Hislop, conductress; Miss Julia Cash, guard; Mrs. Thelma Leehy, a three-year term as trustee; Mrs. Pat Leehy, secretary; and Mrs. Birdie Coon, patriotic instructor and historian; and Mrs. Ruby Cash, publicity chairman.

Four auxilary members appointed color bearers were Mrs. Vera Willensky, Mrs. W. W. Jackson, Mrs. Nina Slaton and Mrs. Etta Carter.

A district meeting will be held May 6, at the Jonesboro VFW post.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

32 Drilling Rigs Active In Monroe District Area

Slowed by recent rains, drilling activity in the Monroe District of the State of Louisiana Department of Conservation continued light with 31 rigs active as the weekend neared.

In the Cadeville field of Ouachita parish, beginning of the Gulf Refining Co. L. Werner Sawmill Co. Unit No. 1, third venture in the field, was delayed by rains, which reportedly submerged the drilling platform and made it necessary to rebuild a road to the site. This venture is expected to provide information for determining spacing pattern and permanent daily allowables for the Cadeville field.

Ouachita's other highly interesting venture, the Gulf Refining Co. E. V. Waller et al Unit No. 1 wildcat, in Sec. 6-16-1E, near Eros, is in the midst of hard drilling in Travis Peak shale below 8100 feet. This test, based upon information from the Cadeville field approximately six miles east by northeast, is expected to explore the Cotton Valley series to a maximum depth of 11,500 feet. Due to a difference in elevation of more than 800 feet, well depth is to be greater than that in the Cadeville field, where the deepest test made to date was at the Atlantic Refining Co. Golson A-1, field confirmation well. After being drilled to 10,373 feet to test a lower Cotton Valley sand, the A-1 was completed in the Cadeville sand of the upper Cotton Valley.

The status of other activity over the district as the weekend neared follows:

CROWD FLOCKS TO PALACE TO SEE GRACE KELLY—Residents of Monaco flock to the courtyard of the royal palace for a look at their soon-to-be princess, Grace Kelly, shortly after her arrival Thursday. The American film star and her fiance, Prince Rainier III, are barely visible (arrow) under the lower right arch of the palace balcony. The wedding takes place next week. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Monaco.)

GUEST SPEAKER — Alf Rose, of Vicksburg, Miss., will be the guest speaker Sunday, April 15, at the Fellowship Baptist Mission, on Columbia Road. W. H. Maxwell, mission pastor, has invited the general public to attend Sunday services beginning at 11 a.m.

GRADES. GRATES is too vague.

9. Ragged nerves justify the supposition of TENSEness. Edge nerves will not make a person TERSE — they will merely put him in a mood to be TERSE.

17. OLD ones (but not new ones) favors TOMBS. Even recent TOMES may contain material of antiquarian interest.

19. STALE is clearly a good answer, WHATEVER the part in question. For SOME parts in films, STAGE actors may well provide PERFECT choices.

20. DRINK is closer to the point. The object of locking up a man (presumably an alcoholic) would be to prevent him getting ANY DRINK (e.g. alcohol) nor merely to prevent him getting Drunk.

21. A PET MUST be thought a lot of, in order to justify the term PET; otherwise it would not be considered a PET. A VET MAY WELL be thought a lot of and again he may not.

CLUES DOWN:

1. FIGHT is more apt. Some men, yes, will tell you there's money in the FIGHT business but every man will tell you, not just some men, that there's money to be made in the RIGHT business. That is only logical.

2. The clue says "might recommend." The first thing a good doctor WOULD do if the "busy" executive had a HEART complaint would be to recommend that he ease up "on his work." There is no "might" about it. He, however, might or might not recommend he ease up after he had HEARD complaint, according to what the complaint was.

5. HASTE (this does not imply speed) suggests inefficiency, and is therefore very apt. In many jobs and industries, a certain amount of WASTE is INEVITABLE.

9. Since the clue merely states "to occupy your MIND," TALKS is clearly more apt than TASKS.

10. "Waste of TIME" is more apt to SEE. SUE a man unsuccessfully and you may well find the waste of money much more important than the waste of time.

13. Both a PARSON and a PERSON should be of an exemplary character so preference is given to the more comprehensive answer, e.g., PERSON because it includes PARSON — a PARSON being a PERSON.

15. Being "worried," he might look for PEACE. There is no such link between being worried and looking for a PLACE.

18. OLD is best since it is more comprehensive. In most cases if the messenger boys are ODD looking it is because they are OLD looking.

Pravda says Joe Stalin was a consummate egotist. Even if he was, he was an amateur as compared with our Douglas and Arthur.

"A hungry person at the wheel is an unsafe driver," says a traffic official. So is a certain type of unthirsty person.

tian consulate and U.N. delegation. They chanted and prayed for an hour. They called it a memorial service for the three children and a rabbi "murdered by Egyptian killers near Tel Aviv on Wednesday."

The youngsters said the organization is the leading anti-Communist group for Jewish youth.

Ben-Gurion complained to Hammarskjold yesterday against the raid on the children and the appearance of Egyptian jet planes over Israeli territory. Ben-Gurion said it was clear that Egyptian acts of hostility are continuing.

'Mighty Casey,' Baseball Opera, Branded Success

Brown Auditorium at Northeast State was the scene last night of a lively and highly proficient performance of the three-scene baseball opera, "The Mighty Casey" by William Schuman.

The first performance Thursday, a premiere in the south, was for an enthusiastic audience of school children. The second run was for the general public.

"The Mighty Casey" is a lyric theater version of the famous poem "Casey at the Bat" by Ernest L. Thayer. With it the composer manages to create a highly dramatic and musically pleasing work which has all the ingredients for an evening of good entertainment. Musically, the work leans heavily on the rhythmic aspects; the rhythm of an excited baseball audience furnishes the composer with the material for some inspired choral writing. Lyricism is not omitted, however. There are moments of melody which capture the listener and brighten the highly-charged suspense of the drama. Running throughout is the humor of people, subtle and typical of baseball.

The performance by the all-student cast from Northeast State was superior by all student standards. Aided by the experience of several years of growing opera tradition on campus, the cast gave a gratifying performance in every respect. Janet Cash, appearing in the role of Merry (Casey's girl), Floyd Fisher as the watchman, Bob Oldenburg in the title role, Volmer Dean Boyd as a male fan and Betty Spurlock as a female fan, all turned in superior performances. The Centerville pitcher and catcher, played by David Tschabold and Donnie Murphy, gave realistic portrayals of the roles. Billy Crain displayed a fine voice and dramatic ability in the role of umpire Buttenheiser.

On the more humorous side, James Albritton as Charlie, James Sullivan as the manager, Joe Naff as the concessionaire, Bill Seymour James Cullipher and Ardice Trapp as the hawkers gave excellent supporting roles. Members of the Mudville team were played by Fred Switzer, Charles Newman, Holcombe Pryor, Bill Lueg, Wilmer Lawson, Horace Smith, Jack Hover, and Billy Joe Thompson.

The orchestra of twenty - three musicians performed the difficult musical score with near professional proficiency and, together with the chorus of thirty - one voices and the cast of principals, combined to give the audience a delightful evening of musical theater.

The production was under the musical direction of Joe Barry Mullins of the Fine Arts department.

Clean Up Along Louisiana Roads Will Start Monday

Monday begins a statewide "Clean Up Week" on all Louisiana highways, Mrs. Aline Banister, of Monroe, District Five director for the Louisiana Association Clubs for Roadside Development, said Friday.

Mrs. Banister said that Governor Robert Kennon, Monroe Mayor John E. Coon and West Monroe Mayor J. Allen Norris have designated April 16 to 20 as a time for cleaning debris from along roadsides and streets. Boy Scouts will distribute posters to remind motorists not to be a "litterbug."

"Louisiana was getting the name of one of the dirtiest, most littered states in the Union until our organization was formed at the governor's request last year. Our cleanup programs have helped decidedly. Next week will mark the launching of our 1956 Spring drive to make motorists "litter conscious," Mrs. Bannister said.

She added that letters and materials for use in the cleanup campaign have been mailed to 34 mayors in District Five by Mrs. Homer Harris, of Alexandria, state LACRD president.

Before the beginning of LACRD programs some 15 months ago, state's taxpayers spent about $14 per road mile in cleaning roadsides Mrs. Banister said. This, she added, did not include grass mowing.

The "Don't Be A Litterbug" campaigns have reached into city beauty of Louisiana to natives and visitors alike.

The LACRD was formed in 1955, when Governor Kennon called women civic leaders over the state to Baton Rouge and asked their help in keeping the highways free of litter.

"It is extremely rare that a person who works hard 12 hours a day becomes insane," says a psychiatrist. This statement lends support to the saying that only smart people go nuts.

It may be that freedom of speech has been curtailed some in recent years, but there is still more of it than anybody would dare use.

Monroe Tags Southern, 4-2, For 9th Exhibition Win

Robinson Shows No-Hit Twirling For Five Innings

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 13 (Special)—Jim Robinson, a right-hander on option from Richmond, Va., of the International League, hurled five innings of hitless ball here this afternoon in his first trial with the Monroe Sports of the Evangeline League, and the Louisiana pros marched to a 4-2 triumph over Mississippi Southern College for their ninth exhibition victory in ten games. Ken Travis, working the last four frames for Monroe, allowed three hits and both runs by the Southerners.

Manager Ed Head sends his Sports into their final exhibition of the season here Saturday night against McAlester, Okla., of the Sooner State League. His club is due in Monroe Sunday morning and will hold its first workout of the season in Monroe's Legion Memorial Stadium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Evangeline season opens Tuesday with Monroe at Alexandria.

Robinson looked mighty impressive in his five-inning stint today. Wildness got him in trouble a few times, but on each occasion he would bear down to shut off Southern threats.

Don Pierce, second baseman who is just out of the army, started the Sports on the road in victory with a home run in the second inning. Before the inning was over, Ike Blackman's double drove home Robinson who had singled.

The Sports gathered in two more runs in the fifth. Ron Paul singled, advanced in an infield out, and scored on a single by Blackman who took second on the throw-in. A single by Bill Carr, the Mississippi State athlete from Rolling Fork, scored Blackman.

A single by Steve Mitchell, a pair of bases on balls off Travis, and an error helped the Southerners to their runs in the sixth.

Score by innings:

Monroe	.. 002	020	000—4	9 1
Miss. So.	..000	002	000—2	3 2

Robinson, Travis (6) and Miller; Youngbloom and Martin, Williams (6).

El Dorado Falls To Neville's Net Machine, 10 To 2

The Neville High School tennis team continued its winning ways yesterday by defeating El Dorado High of El Dorado, Ark. The matches were played on the Northeast Louisiana State College courts and the final score was 10 matches to 2.

Summaries:

Boys' singles: Nat Troy, Neville, defeated Donee Durio, 6-9, 6-3; Carl Aron, Neville defeated Jodie Mahoney, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3; Bob Mosley, Neville, defeated John Moore, 6-3, 6-1; George Varino, Neville, beat Dickie Lankford, 7-5, 6-2.

Boys' doubles: Troy and Mosley, Neville, beat Durio and Mohoney, 6-2, 6-2; Moore and Lankford, El Dorado, beat Varino and King Stubbs, 6-1, 6-2.

Girls' doubles: Brady and Trousdale, Neville, beat Phillips and Wright, 6-0, 6-1; Barksdale and McDonald, Neville, beat Moore and McCoy, 6-2, 6-0.

Larsen Surprise Pick Of Stengel To Pitch Opener

PITTSBURGH, April 13 (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees today nominated Don Larsen, towering right-hander, as his surprise opening pitcher against the Senators in Washington Tuesday.

Larsen had a 9-2 mark with the Yankees last year. He spent the first half of the season at Denver and returned in time to help spearhead the Yankee drive to the American League pennant.

This spring has been an interesting one for Larsen. He has an exhibition mark of 3-0, and one slightly - wrecked automobile to show for his spring efforts. Larsen fell asleep driving his car early one morning in St. Petersburg, drove it into a post and racked up $750 worth of damages. He was also fined $15 for driving at a presumed excessive rate of speed.

Commenting on his choice, Stengel declared, "I just goes to show what a fellow can do if he buckles down."

Whitey Ford, last year's opening day pitcher, has been presumed to have the inside track for the opening-day job. By using Larsen against Washington Stengel can come back with him against the righthanded power of the Boston Red Sox hitters the following weekend.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker, who won the 1955 Kentucky Derby with Swaps, was riding in the race for the fourth time.

Snead Leading 5 Strokes

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 13 (AP) —Sam Snead fell off to a 69 today, three shots more than he took yesterday, but he gained four more strokes on the field to lead the $12,500 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament by five shots after 36 holes with a 135 total.

The 43-year-old White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro bogled 3 of the first 6 holes, but birdied 5 of the last 12 to finish two under par and lead runner-up Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., by five shots. Ford, PGA champion, had his second straight 70.

While Snead was not exactly burning up the 6,723-yard, par-71 Starmount Forest Country Club course, primarily because of a pesky putter, his closest rivals at the start of the round were having more troubles.

Sam outshot 19 of the 21 men nearest him at the start of business on a day ideal for golf.

Seeking to win this tournament for the sixth time, he looked to be in great position with two days left and nobody showing signs of developing into a major threat.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, who was one shot behind after the first round, needed 74 today as his putter ruined him. That dropped him into a three-way tie for third at 141 with John Knight of Los Angeles and bill Casper of Chfla Vista, Calif.

Ellsworth Entry Favored At 3-5 In Broward Run

MIAMI, Fla., April 13 (AP)—Rex Ellsworth's Swaps, assigned high weight of 130 pounds, makes his first start in nearly two months in tomorrow's $25,000 Broward Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

The colt under that weight will be conceding 8 to 25 pounds to his 11 rivals—including eight stakes winners—in the mile and 70 yards race. His stablemate, New Trend, who tied the Gulfstream Track record of a mile and a sixteenth in 1:42 recently, was second high in the handicaps with 122 pounds.

New Trend may be held out because he likes the mud and the prospect is for a fast track tomorrow.

Bengal Golfers Take Meet Over Byrd, Springhill

SHREVEPORT, La., April 13 (Special) — Neville High School of Monroe, rolled over Springhill and Byrd of Shreveport today in a triangular golf match at Querbes Golf course here. Neville totaled 308 to Byrd's 310 and Springhill's 375.

Roy Nash, playing number two man on the Tiger organization, was medalist with a 73. Other members of Neville's first foursome and their scores were: Joe Thomas, 75; Jack Rivers, 76; and Mark Womack, 84.

Jim Harper, Sonny Harper, Joe Wheeler, and Clayton Cole also rounded the course for the Bengals but did not add their totals to the official score. Jim Harper shot an 81, Sonny Harper marked 85, Wheeler had another 85, and Clayton made the course in 86.

Neville's Junior Spikemen Second In Ruston Event

RUSTON, La., April 13 (Special) — Junior trackmen of Minden High School won a triangular meet here today by nosing out Neville of Monroe, 64½ to 62. Ruston was third with 32½.

Neville and Minden ran almost neck-and-neck, and the meet wasn't decided until the final event which Neville won, but Minden's second in the 880 relay saved enough points for victory.

Plans were made to hold a north Louisiana double-A track meet for juniors here May 4.

Bruins Send Speake To Los Angeles Farm

CHICAGO, April 13 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today sent outfielder-first baseman Bob Speake to their Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Speake's departure trimmed the cub roster to 34 players.

Speake, 25, a left- handed batter and thrower, made a strong bid to gain a regular cub berth last season, but wound up with a .218 batting average in 95 games.

Marciano Promises Answer Next Week On Retirement Plan

BOSTON, April 13 (AP) — The Boston Traveler today quoted heavyweight boxing Champion Rocky Marciano as saying he will make up his mind next week whether to retire or stay in the ring.

"I can't give you an answer . . . I'm confused," Marciano told Traveler boxing writer Bill Liston who contacted the Rock by phone in Florida where he's staying after completing a South American tour.

The article quoted the Brockton, Mass., Battler as saying:

"I don't know my own mind. You can say I'm thinking about it.

"I'm not trying to kid anybody. I'm really thinking of forgetting about the ring. I am going to talk with my manager, Ay Willis, next week. Then we'll have a decision."

The Traveler, then quoted Weill, contacted in New York:

"Whatever Rocky wants, I'm for. Did he really tell you he was thinking of retiring?

"Well, if that's the way he wants it that's the way it's going to be.

2-Run Tech Rally In 9th Overhauls Southeastern, 6-5

RUSTON, La., April 13 (AP) — Louisiana Tech got two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning today to gain a 6-5 Gulf States Conference victory over Southeastern Louisiana.

Doug Robertson's single with the bases loaded scored the winning run.

SLC's Dick Francis got three hits in four trips and Tech's Doug Robertson got three for five.

Milford Andrews and Wade Scott each got a home run for Tech, and Ken Ridgell got one for SLC.

The victory gave Tech a 2-1 record. The loss gave SLC a 1-2 conference record.

Tech's Bulldogs engage Centenary of Shreveport in a non-conference game here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

4-Run 6th Hands Irish, 10-9, Win Over Collinston

St. Matthew's High clustered four runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 9-6 Collinston High lead here yesterday afternoon to defeat the invaders, 10-9, on the L.T.I. diamond. Coach Jay Broussard repeatedly shuffled his lineup to pull the stopped on Collinston. The clubs meet again Tuesday afternoon at Collinston.

Jackie Norman, third Irish pitcher, was the winner in a game that saw Collinston outhit the Irish 5. Collinston sluggers Harper, Vaughan, and B. Cheek socked triples, and St. Matthew's best blow was a double by Carl Inzina. Each team drew nine bases on balls.

Writers Swing Heavily Toward Yanks, Dodgers

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — To four of every five basketball writers it will be another Brooklyn Dodger-New York Yankee World Series.

The vote of 109 writers who defied the Friday the 13th hex to "expert" the pennant races was so lopsided it was almost no contest. Nobody picked either team worse than third. The yanks had 88 firsts and Brooklyn 86.

Before there is a run on the banks to back up this overwhelming show of confidence, it should be pointed out that a similar poll of 110 writers a year ago predicted pennants for Cleveland and Milwaukee.

Although about 80 per cent of the vote was for a Dodger-Yank first place ballots. Both the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians had pennant backers and there was one voice raised for the Chicago White Sox. Milwaukee was the only other National League team to command solid support although the New York Giants and St. Louis did get first place votes.

Except for the two pennant winners. Only seven of the other 14 clubs were assigned the same finishing position.

Glowing reports on the Red Sox youngsters, plus the prospects of a full season from Ted Williams, resulted in a strong vote for Boston. Despite the Sox's late 1955 slump and fourth place finish, the writers give them second place and 12 first place ballots.

Cleveland was dropped a rung to third and Chicago down to fourth in the pre-season rundown. The seond division was spotted for the same finish as a year ago with Detroit, Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington in that order. The same teams had been consigned to the bottom half of the Amerian League last spring although in a different order.

The Dodgers convinced almost everybody by that runaway last season. A year ago only 19 voted for Brooklyn to win.

'Proper Channels' Approve Landy's California Races

MELBOURNE, April 13 (AP)— A formal invitation from the United States for John Landy to run two races on the Pacific coast next month was received and accepted today, ending a three-day rhubarb over international protocol.

"There is a ray of sunshine and no shadow of doubt John will run," Hugh Wier, president of the Amateur Athletic Union in Australia said.

"We have received a cable requesting his appearance from the A.A.U. of America and sanction has been granted."

Landy, whose 3:58 is the fastest mile ever run, was invited Tuesday to run in the Southern California Relays at Los Angeles May 5 and the West Coast Relays May 12.

After he had accepted, a hitch developed because the negotiations were carried on privately instead of through proper athletic association channels.

In New York, Dan Ferris, secretary treasurer of the A.A.U., announced that a formal invitation was dispatched last night after proper procedures had been taken.

"We have requested the Australian A.A.U. to grant Landy permission to run," Ferris said. "We sincerely hope he does. We believe the people involved acted in good faith, but unwisely."

Wier said in Melbourne: "I am very sorry about the unpleasantness of this matter and none of it has been the fault of John Landy.

Cardinals Think They Have First Division Threat

DENVER, April 12 (AP)—Members of the St. Louis Cardinals, in a self-evaluation poll, Thursday picked themselves to finish in the National League's first division after a dismal seventh-place 1955 season.

A conviction of stronger pitching, added experience for young players and a better team spirit were the chief factors for the optimism expressed by veteran squad members.

The return of Vinegar Bend Mizell, southpaw hurler, from the army, the progress of third baseman Ken Boyer and addition of veteran pitcher Ellis Kinder and outfielder Hank Sauer drew personal mention.

Manager Fred Hutchinson also came in for his share of bouquets as one player commented:

"Hutch is no softie, but as (coach) Bill Posedel said, he doesn't demand respect—he commands it."

Stan Musial, veteran outfield star of the team, put the situation this way:

"Improved, of course. It's important now that the club's lineup can be adjusted to meet different kinds of pitching. Our pitching prospects are very encouraging. Our young fellas like Boyer (Bill) Virdon and (Wally) Moon are better. There's more power on the bench, or lineup with Sauer and (Walker) Cooper around."

Dave Erb, who is expected to ride Needles in the 1956 Kentucky Derby, has twice ridden in the event, finishing tenth in both 1953 and 1954.

Rebel Golf Machine Wins Over Crossett

The Rebel golfers of West Monroe High, paced by state champion Eddie Watkins' medal score 76, defeated Crossett, Ark., High's linksmen, 383 to 394, in charged-stroke play for four-man teams yesterday.

In addition to Watkins, members of the winning team included Gene Adams, Louie Ervin, and Bobby Shelby.

Like the Kentucky Derby, the Kentucky Oaks for three-year-old fillies was first run at Churchill Downs in 1875.

Gulf Rivals Meet In Legion Stadium For Quarterbacks

The Northeast State Indians, with a 3-3 record for the season and shaded by McNeese State in their only conference start of the year, will meet Southeastern Louisiana's Lions here this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium in quest of their first Gulf States Conference win at the expense of the defending champions.

Coach Pat Kenelly's Lions, smarting from two league losses, the latest to Louisiana Tech yesterday, 6-5, will be anxious to take the Redskins into tow to even their G.S.C. mark for the season at 2-2. The Lions defeated Louisiana College, -6, in opening defense of their crown, but fell to Northwestern in ten innings, 6-5, before the loss to Tech.

Freshman George Thomas, with a 1-1 mark for the season, has been tagged as Southeastern's starting pitcher today, and Coach George Luffey of the Tribe said he plans to use Billy Jo Laird and James Mock, with Laird the likely starter.

The game this afternoon is sponsored by the Northeast Quarterback Club, and an admission will be charged. However, Northeast students will be admitted on their athletic passes.

In addition to Laird or Mock on the mound, the Northeast lineup will show Harold Davis, third base; Bill Bradley, shortstop; Frank Scalia, first base; Gayle Peak, second base; Jackie Neal, right field; Donald Stewart, center field; Tommy Leos, left field; and Ray Hopper, catcher. Coach Luffey said Ike McMullen also is slated for duty in the outfield.

Regular second baseman Dennis Fields is out of service with the Tribe as the result of an ankle sprain.

Northeast Sends Two Contenders To S. L. I. Relays

Northeast State College will enter only two participants in the Southwestern Relays at Lafayette today according to Indian track coach, Leo Kay.

Bill Crowe will participate in the high jump, broad jump and hop-skip-and jump, while the other entry, Bill McDonald, will take part in the high hurdles, high jump and hop-skip-and jump.

McDonald set a new Gulf States Conference record in the Northwestern State College Relays at Natchitoches recently. He smashed the high hurdles record with 15-feet-2 inches. He also tied with two Demons at the same meet for the high jump record which was 6-feet-2¾ inches.

The next regularly scheduled meet will take place April 19 on the campus of Louisiana College at Pineville with Northeast State, Louisiana College and Northwestern State participating.

Neville Goes Ten Innings To Nip West Monroe, 7-6

BY LEMMIE HIGHTOWER

With two out in the last regulation inning, no base runners, and trailing, 6-4, Coach Jim Coats' Neville Tigers snapped back with a never-say-die spirit yesterday afternoon to nip the West Monroe Rebels, 7 to 6, in ten innings. First baseman Willie Ragan bunted home the winning run in the bottom of the tenth in a battle on the Neville diamond that spectators will long remember.

West Monroe had brought across two runs in the top of the seventh to break a 4-4 deadlock and felt confident of adding another win to their victory string. Rebel center fielder George Smith raced home on a force-out at second base to give W.M.H.S. run number five and Robert Perkins scored on an error to add what appeared to be an insurance tally.

Initial Reb hurler Wayne Hendricks fanned the first Bengal batsman in the history making seventh and Dan Keith flied out to center to place the Blue and Gray athletes just one out away from their tenth triumph. But fate had decided differently. Shortstop "Spec" Lewis collected a base on balls from Hendricks. Then the bat of Ralph McNabb spoke with a double into left field that enable Lewis to score on an error on the throw-in. Mickey Yerger followed to send another two-bagger towering into center field and bring around McNabb to tie the score at 6-6.

The Rebels came back to threaten with three)westsiders on base and only one out in the ninth. Hendricks then popped up to the infield for an automatic out and L.C. Crawford was trapped trying to move home.

Yerger, who is a junior at Neville, again proved to be disastrous to the West Monroe cause in the deciding tenth. Lavelle Browder, who had replaced Hendricks on the mound in the seventh, walked Yerger. A single by Bengal tosser Jim Altick moved the runner to second. A double steal moved both Tigers another base down the scoring trail. Then Ragan sent his slow rolling bunt toward the mound that brough Yerger home for victory.

For the Rebelists, this was their second defeat of the season. Bolton of Alexandria turned them back on the Bears' diamond recently.

N.H.S. now clutches a 3-2 record for the year.

Moundsman Altick traveled the complete ten rounds to claim the victory. Fireman Browder was charged with the loss for the Rebels.

28 Tech Track, Field Stars Off For S. L. I. Event

RUSTON, La. April 13 (Special)—Twenty-eight members of Louisiana Tech's track team left Ruston at noon Friday for Lafayette to participate in the annual Southwestern Louisiana Institutue Relays there Saturday.

Tech's thinclads are expected to be strong contenders again this season in the relays. Coach Jim Mize's Techsters, with a team composed of Roland Mason, Gene Jantz, Doug Winberry, and Bruce Lenoir, won both the 440 and 880-yard relays in the S.L.I. Relays last year and all are back with the Canine speedsters this season. They covered the 440 in 43.3 seconds and the 880 yards in 1:29.8.

In track competition this season the Bulldogs have won dual meets over both Arkansas State Teachers and McNeese State. Coach Mize's spikemen placed in four events at the Texas Relays last weekend and in two events of the Southwestern Recreation Meet at Fort Worth, Tex., on March 17.

Other Gulf States Conference teams entered in the Southwestern Relays include Northwestern State, McNeese, Southeastern Louisiana and two Northeast spikemen.

Members of Tech's team making the trip include Oberle Allbritton, John Anderson, Sidney Anderson, Carl Bassett, Billy Bond, Wayne Bourgeois, Maurice Brownell, Robert Dunbar, Bobby Ellis, Frank Heathman, Pat Hinton, Tom Hinton, Gene Jantz, Eddie Lanier, Bruce Lenoir, Roland Mason, Max McDonald, Bill Phelps, Tommy Powell, Russell Rainbolt, Roland Robertson, Charles Saucier, Charles Sturdivant, Joel Thomas, Fred Westergaarl, A. We invite everyone—especially the ladies and young people—to come to our meetings because we would like them to become interested in state Affairs. In particular we invite parish and Municipal Officials as well as police jurors and those interested in education, to come and bring friends. TIME IS SHORT. We have very little money, few newspapers, and only a short time in which to imform the people on these very important subjects. After you have heard all the facts discussed and explained, we believe you will realize that we are trying to do good for all of our people and to work a hardship on no one.

Man Admits Pretending To Be Unwed MD; Tells Of 'Friendship' With Girls

DALLAS, April 13 —UP—William Joseph Halbrook told police Friday that he developed many rewarding friendships with strange working girls simply by telephoning them and pretending to be an unmarried doctor.

Halbrook, 26, said some of the girls he fooled didn't appeal to him and he didn't try to develop a close relationship. "I don't know why I did take some of them out," he said.

Detective D. B. Dozier arrested Halbrook Thursday night at a service station near Parkland Memorial hospital, which he frequently used a prop when playing doctor for impressionable maidens.

What Dozier wanted Halbrook for was charges of forging two $100 checks. A charge of cashing one of the bad checks, at Methodist Hospital, was filed with the district attorney against him.

After Dozier arrested Halbrook, he called Halbrook's 23-year-old bridge-who said they were married March 31 and she was surprised to learn her husband was not a doctor.

Dozier said Halbrook had another wife and two children. He had amazing command of medical terms, picked up as a medic in the Air Force and in courses at Texas Christian University and North Texas State.

He always carried a stethescope and, Dozier said, gave the names of doctors at Parkland hospital to girls he called for dates. This turned out to be a mistake.

Some of the girls telephoned Parkland after having dates with Halbrook and innocently asked for the real doctors Halbrook had pretended to be. The girls were embarrassed when they got the real doctors on the telephone.

They telephoned police, more in sorrow than in anger, to find out what the confusion was about. None of the girls ever complained about Halbrook mistreating her.

Police found a long list of the names of girls on Halbrook, some with telephone numbers. He said he'd hang around a bank in the morning and watch the girls go in to work in offices.

When he saw one he fancied, he would follow her to the office in which she worked and find out her name and telephone number. Then he'd telephone her with his doctor routine.

He was fined $126 in Memphis, Tenn., after a psychiatric examination, on complaints from women that he had posed as a doctor, police said. His record showed that he was in a state institution in Wichita Falls once.

He walked away, but was discharged before he was picked up again. He was expelled from Baylor University, where he was a ministerial student, and arrested in Waco on a charge of aggravated assault on a 16-year-old girl.

Detective Bob Abbott said Halbrook explained his absences from home to his bride by telling her he was out operating. Dozier said he had sometimes worked as a clerk.

One angry girl scratched Halbrook's face. He explained that to his wife, he said, by telling her that it happened while he was operating on a child, while the child's mother looked on.

He said the child's mother got upset and flew at him and another doctor, scratching their faces. When he was arrested Thursday night, his face was scratched again, but he didn't say by whom.

Ex-Convict Held For Aiding Escape In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss., April 13 (AP)—Dist. Atty. Bob Nichols today charged Frank Hemphill with aiding Sam Barnes flee his life sentence for murder at state penitentiary early Wednesday.

Hemphill and Barnes were fellow inmates at the prison, Nichols said, adding Hemphill was released three months ago.

Justice of the Peace T. P. Hughes set Hemphill's bond at $5,000 and lodged him in Hinds County jail to await action of the grand jury.

Maximum penalty for aiding the escape of a felon is 10 years.

Barnes, 32, was convicted of murdering his father-in-law, Henry Temple of Canton, in 1954 during an argument over Barnes' estranged wife.

Nichols said a Jackson taxicab driver, identified as Orrin P. Ferguson, 28, was released on $500 bond as a material witness.

Officials said Hemphill set up the escape and Barnes walked away from the sprawling penal farm and into Hemphill's waiting car before dawn.

The pair drove to Jackson where Barnes hired Ferguson's cab to drive him to Hazlehurst. Officials said Ferguson did not recognize Barnes at the time.

Barnes rented a tourist court in Hazlehurst under the name of Frank Williams. Four hours later, he surrendered to a dozen highway patrolmen who crouched behind rifles and shotguns and shouted to him to come out.

Patrolman Bert Davis was credited with finding the fugitive through intense questioning of Hazlehurst citizens.

Barnes told officers he fled the prison because "I didn't feel like in the condition I was in that I could make it the next 10 years up there."

He said he was suffering from tuberculosis and World War II injuries.

The typical local winners, who will compete here to be Louisiana's representative in the national event is considered the most outstanding example of the typical, modern American homemaker, and the purpose of this program is to honor her as the symbol of that which she represents," Cage said.

The local winners, representing various Louisiana cities, were selected by the American Gas Association on the basis of their homemaking, civic, cultural and religious activities in their home towns in competition with other local competitors.

Four On Trial

pated in the disturbance however.

The four defendants brought into recorders court today pleaded innocent to misdemeanor charges.

Schatz said he was hired to serve at the auditorium during off-duty hours. An extra force of policemen had been assigned to the concert because of rumors something was going to happen.

The officer said he knocked Vinson from the stage with his night stick, and sent Adams sailing from the platform with a blow with his hand. He added that, "It took four or five men to carry Vinson from the auditorium."

Schatz said that, "after he — Adams—fell off the stage, there were about six more there and fists were flying everywhere."

The witness said that as Vinson was carried out by officers, Jesse W. Mabry, 43, Birmingham, shouted:

"Why don't you leave the white boy alone and beat the — Negro?"

Mabry, assistant editor of a White Citizens Council publications, the Southerner, is one of the defendants on misdemeanor charges.

After a conference with City Atty. Charles Brown and the defense Attorney, Beddow, Parker ordered the four defendants in his court tried on these charges:

Orliss Clevenger, 18, Anniston, disorderly conduct, carrying a concealed weapon, conspiracy to commit assault and battery.

Mike Fox, 36, Anniston, conspiracy to commit a breach of the peace, and conspiracy to commit assault and battery.

E. L. Vinson, 25, Anniston, disorderly conduct, carrying a concealed weapon, conspiracy to commit assault and battery.

Mabry, 43, disorderly conduct, refusal to obey the lawful command of an officer, and conspiracy to commit a beach of the peace.

road. Rainier was forced to halt when the French photographer lay down. When the man rose, Rainier drove on slowly while the cameras clicked furiously.

A short time later, the ban on news photographers was announced at the press center established for the wedding in Monaco.

Otherwise, it was a quiet day for the Prince and Miss Kelly—the last they are likely to have until they are married and depart for their honeymoon on his yacht.

WASHINGTON, April 13 —UP— A congressional expert warned Friday that Grace Kelly could lose her American citizenship as princess of Monaco.

It is not mandatory. But Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Immigration and Naturalization subcommittee warned of such a possibility, unless she acts with care.

Miss Kelly has said she expects to enjoy dual citizenship after her marriage next week to Prince Rainier III of Monaco. American law permits dual citizenship with certain restrictions.

"As far as I am concerned," Walter told the United Press, "there will be no amendments to the law to deprive her of citizenship." But he said there are two legal traps in her way.

The first involves the swearing of allegiance to a foreign power. If Miss Kelly did that, she would forfeit her American citizenship.

The second provisions of law is not so clear cut. It states an American who acquires dual nationality loses American citizenship by "accepting, serving in, or performing the duties of any office, post or employment under the government of a foreign state or a political subdivision thereof. . ."

Will Miss Kelly, as Rainier's princess, find some of his official duties falling on her? Can she be sure where ceremony ends and "the duties of office" begin? Will her new rank constitute "employment" by the principality of Monaco?

Walter noted that it will be up to the State Department, as Miss Kelly's new career unfolds, to answer such questions.

Georgia Governor Lashes 'Usurpation Of States' Rights'

Griffin Denounces Court's Decision In Debate With Integregation Forces

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 13 (AP) — Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, attacking the Supreme Court's segregation decisions as a "palpable and deliberate usurpation" of states' rights, said tonight no court has authority to settle the controversy.

"This dispute," he said, "is determinable only by the people themselves, speaking through their legislative bodies."

Griffin's remarks were prepared for a debate of segregation with Republican Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits of New York State, under the auspices of the Harvard Law School Forum.

Javits, in his prepared remarks, said the Supreme Court's "historic decision" 23 months ago poses "the greatest challenge the American people have faced in the battle for civil rights since the Civil War."

He conceded many Southerners are "deeply and honestly" convinced "that segregation is vital to the maintenance of 'racial integrity,' meaning to many Southerners decent standards of social organization."

The forum scheduled a discussion period after the formal addresses, with questions from the audience in Rindge Tech High School auditorium, seating 1,500.

Gov. Griffin, Democrat attacking the Supreme Court's decisions as "baseless," seeking to "transmute socialistic theory into law" and founded on what he called a "ridiculous theory" that Negro children suffer a "sense of inferiority" in segregated schools, declared the court "usurped the reserved powers of the states."

The Southern states' position, Griffin said, is "that no government, no governmental department, no court or other tribunal has the right to dispose of the fundamental liberties of man."

Among these God-given rights and freedon "beyond the power of government or any court, no matter how supreme," he said, are "the rights possessed by every man to have a home and rear a family, to choose his own associates, to rear his children according to his belief. . . ."

Javits, a former New York City congressman, said he would recommend to the Eisenhower administration that it call a White House conference of the governors and attorneys general of all 48 states to consider the problems of compliance with the court's decision.

"In that way, the whole body of law enforcement authority on the state level would find expression," he said, "and the reasonableness of what may be asked the Southern states could be determined."

If Congress fails to approve creation of a bipartisan civil rights commission recommended this week by the administraton, "the President should without question himself appoint a bipartisan commission to exercise the same authority," Javits said.

The New York added that Americans should not lose sight of the "international stake which we have in this whole problem."

"The great contest between freedom and communism is over the approximately one billion people, largely Negro and Oriental, who occupy the underdeveloped areas of the Far East, the Middle East and Africa.

"These people therefore, are watching with the most profound concern our present internal struggle on civil rights. . . . We need . . . to convince them that we mean to practice to the full what we preach to them in the name of freedom."

Speakers Oppose 2 Amendments; Long Is Absent

Governor elect Earl K. Long failed to show up at a speaking engagement at Monroe's Five Points last night where a slate of legislators and state office holders campaigned against two of six proposed constitutional amendments.

State Senator B. B. "Pete" Rayburn of Bogalousa who acted as master of ceremonies, said during closing rounds of the speach making, "Governor Long was here earlier but went down the road with a party and has not returned."

About 85 Negroes and whites attracted to the five point area by blaring loudspeakers heard state officials and Ouachita parish representative-elect Lawrence Gibbs speak on a number of the amendments.

Gibbs urged the people to pass the fifth proposed amendment.

Amendment No. 5 would increase the authorized debt limit of the city of Monroe school district to twenty-five per cent of assessed valuation of taxable property in the school district.

Monroe, Bogalousa, and Lake Charles are the only three cities in Louisiana with a city school system.

Gibbs also asserted that he was not in favor of the first proposed amendment.

Lucille Mae Grace, elected state Registrar of Lands, also appearing on the slate of speakers asserted disfavor of No. 1 and No. 3 proposed amendments.

Sidney J. McCrory democratic nominee for commissioner of agriculture, second to speak last night pointed out that the first amendment was similar in nature to an amendment ruled out by the state Supreme Court in 1954. This decision, he added, was upheld by the federal Supreme Court.

Monroe's Mayor John E. Coon was seen at the assemblage last night where the crowd dwindled to about 25 or 30 persons before the termination of the speaking. Coon did not enter the speech making.

A number of calls were recorded at the Morning World last night asking about city ordnances covering such a gathering where loud speakers and boisterous music were used. Callers said they also inquired at the police department.

tical effect of doubling the number of quota immigrants now entering this country each year.

He noted Brownell testified that only 82,232 quota immigrants come into the United States in the 12 months ended last June 30 and said the 72,425 unused quota numbers could be expected to be used in the future on top of the approximate increase of 65,000 in the over-all quota.

Brownell said Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing, who was seated behind him, did not agree. The attorney general said it was impossible to tell how many additional immigrants would enter, although he said the pooling proposal "undoubtedly would mean that a larger number of quotas would be used."

"I don't want to disguise the fact that the purpose is to let in more people," he said. "We are in favor of a limited increase."

He said Eisenhower believes that the nation's economic growth over the last 30 years warrants "a reasonable increase in the quota."

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said the countries from which most of the immigrants want to come are areas where Communist activity is greatest. He said this worried them.

Brownell told him that "of course" the administration would maintain the same screening procedures now required for all immigrants.

Columbian Carbon To Complete New Building Oct. 1

Columbian Carbon Co. announced yesterday it expects to complete construction of its new office and laboratory center in Monroe about Oct. 1.

The center will consist of three new buildings which will house operating headquarters for the company's carbon black manufacturing activities in Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico and Kansas.

children "with no reservations" and added:

"It has been proved during the past year that Salk vaccine has great merits."

West German Communists used the report to support their "American go home" campaign. They said in the Frankfurt Communist party paper Sozialistische Volkszeitung inoculated American soldiers and dependents in Germany threaten the national health.

The seven scientists, constituting the advisory council of the Federal Health Office, made the report in February. It led to a ban on all mass inoculation of German children which has not been lifted.

The doctors who prepared the document published it in a Munich medical journal. They charged the West German government had held it secret for two months.

The U.S. Army said today 17,356 children and pregnant wives of U.S. military and civilian personnel have received at least one shot of Salk vaccine in Germany.

The West German Health Ministry reported that between 40,000 and 50,000 German school children were inoculated with the German version of the Salk vaccine either before mass inoculations were banned or by individual inoculations by private physicians under strict supervision.

The ministry declined comment on the doctors' report. It showed no inclination to lift its ban. One source said another expert opinion will be asked to check the report.

The report said mass inoculation in the United States in the spring of 1955 resulted in what was possibly the greatest "catstrophe" in the history of protective inoculations. It said there was no proof that rigid test regulations introduced since in the United States were sufficient to guarantee complete inactivation of live virus.

An examination of the epidemic process of polio in the United States in 1954 and 1955, the report said, showed it must be assumed with "great probability" that healthy inoculated children endanger others "in a considerable degree" by secreting active virus.

It said it was doubted that the adding of aluminum hydroxyde to the German version of the vaccine inactivated all virus possibly left in it.

LLA Officers To Be On Roundtable Here

Officers of the Louisiana Laryngectomees Association will be featured on the Jaycee television roundtable at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, with explanations of speech problems for those who lose their voice box.

Also appearing on the panel will be Dr. C. B. Flinn, member of the association's board of directors; Perry White, president; Mrs. Mable Wright, secretary treasurer; and Miss Frances Barnes, laryngectomee speech therapist.

Election News

Associated Press Manager Pledges Impartial Reports

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—General Manager Frank J. Starzel said today the Associated Press will, as usual, pursue election year news aggressively and "without fear or favor."

And, he added, it will be reported in a fashion "as fair, honest and impartial as dedicated newsmen can make it."

Starzel emphasized these points in his annual report which also noted that the worldwide news cooperative has continued to maintain its steady growth.

Concerning political and election coverage, Starzel said in part:

"As it prepared for the campaign and election year ahead, the management and staff reaffirmed its dedication to the basic principles of the organization.

"The news will be pursued aggressively and without fear or favor.

"There will be no slavish word-counting to see if news coverage balances by actual weight, and we will not be swayed by partisan pressures or recriminations."

The report was mailed to members of the Associated Press in advance of the organization's annual meeting April 23 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here.

Secretary of State Dulles will be the principal speaker at the annual luncheon.

Starzel noted that while spontaneous news still constitutes the backbone of the AP news report, the service has led in a trend toward more exclusive stories, wrapups of related news events and background-interpretive articles.

"This type of copy came from AP staff members whose long association with their subjects and diligent study made them specialists in their fields.

"Much of it came also from member newspapers and radio stations sharing the results of their enterprise."

Starzel said 1955 also brought an apparent decline in the arguments overdesirability of the explanatory - interpretive type of news article.

He attributed this to the fact that critics may have become convinced that newspaper readers on occasion need such articles to help them understand events of the day. He said it also might be that "our writers have become more proficient in telling 'What it means,'" or for both reasons together.

Concerning foreign news, Starzel said that perhaps as never before AP men were compelled to "dig beneath the surface elements of bare events or announcements and bring out their true meaning."

Newspaper, radio and television station membership in the AP, both here and abroad, grew substantially again last year.

At the year's end, the AP had 1,748 morning, afternoon and Sunday newspaper members in the United States, together with 1,501 radio and television stations. Abroad it had subscribers in 68 countries.

Benson, Aide

ready has made up his mind to veto the bill which he has called unworkable.

He said Eisenhower may go on the air "whatever action he takes" — whether he signs or vetoes the measure which Congress approved despite vigorous administration objections to certain major provisions.

Reports persisted that Eisenhower will announce a veto when he returns to Washington next week from a working Augusta vacation but Hagerty refused to discuss the reports.

Eisenhower is under considerable pressure—from a number3nb5i

Eisenhower is under considerable pressure—from a number of farm belt Republicans as well as Democrats—to sign the bill.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who is seeking re-election, wrote the President urging approval. He said that although the Democratic leadership tried "to create a bill which would invite a veto," the measure has features "which are of the greatest importance to agriculture."

Gov. Leo Hoegh of Iowa said at Des Moines that he and at least three other Midwest Republican governors plan to make a personal appeal to Eisenhower to sign. He said he and Govs. Fred Hall of Kansas, Joe Foss of South Dakota and Victor Anderson of Nebraska have tentative arrangements to meet with the President in Washington Monday.

Rep. Cooley (D-NC), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, wired Eisenhower not to veto a "good bill" which, Cooley said, would "go a long way in relieving the present distress in agriculture."

Cooley urged the President to meet with Rep. Hope (R-Kan), Sen. Young (R-ND) and Rep. Anderson (R—Minn)— all of whom voted for the bill—"before you make your final decision to approve or disapprove" the bill.

Hagerty said a decision regarding an Eisenhower TV - radio talk "quite probably" will be made at the President's conference tomorrow with Benson.

The agriculture secretary, who also has sharply criticized the farm bill, will be joined at the session by a team of administration aides from Washington.

Ike's Health And Golf To Be Top Issues, Demo Publication Announces

WASHINGTON, April 13 — UP —The Democratic national committee has made President Eisenhower's health and golf - playing the "big issue" in the coming presidential election campaign.

The Democratic Digest, official organ of the national committee, printed a 35-page blast in this month's issue on what it called "The Big New Issue for 1956: The Part - Time Presidency."

Not all Democrats endorse the approach. Some influential party leaders think it unwise to raise the health issue publicy for fear it will rebound against the Democrats.

These leaders believe that, regardless of the Digest article, the extent to which the health issue is used in the campaign will be determined largely by the wishes of the man who becomes the Democratic nominee.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), one of the two announced contenders for the nomination, has said he will not make an issue of Mr. Eisenhower's health.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the other announced candidate, has referred to President Eisenhower's 1955 heart attack in several speeches. He said it creates a "new and compelling issue" in the campaign.

Several Democratic "dark horse" possibilities have said little about the President's health. Senate Democratic Leadier Lyndon B. Johnson, who is up for Texas' "favorite son" designation at the Democratic convention in August, had a heart attack last year. He would not be likely to raise the issue against Mr. Eisenhower.

The chief executive's golf-playing activities, subtly linked with the question of his health and his attention to duty, are coming in for increasing fire from more than one quarter.

Boy Scout Circus Plans Reported Well Underway

Plans for the May 2 Boy Scout Circus are well underway, General Chairman James Walters announced at a meeting last night

Full reports were given by all chairmen and each was pleased by the progress made in the past month.

The full program of the Circus was given as follows: band concert by the Scout Band under the direction of Joe Barry Mullins of Northeast; the grand entry with all the 74 units of the Council taking part, under direction of A. L. Griffing; the Cubs on parade, all cubs in the council will take part in this act, under the direction of Alex Lea; Stars at Night, under Harry Clark will be the efforts of the scouts of Midland and Southeast Districts; Jamboneering, a day in the life of a Scout will be presented by the Eastern District with Penn Sandridge in charge.

The Southwest District will put on a "bicycle ballet" under the direction of J. B. Tulley; Negro Scouts will have a Scout in Action event supervised by B. D. Robinson; Dr. D. L. Coffman and Robert Sims will have a Safety Events show with the scouts from the Northwest District; The Order of the Arrow, made up of scouts from all over the council will depict the First Americans.

The Central District will assemble at Fort Ouachita under the direction of H. L. Harkey, Jr., and the grand finale will be made up of all the 4,000 scouts in the Valley Council.

In all there will be 2 big acts at the Circus which will be held May 2 at the Rodeo Arena, West Monroe.

There will be two performances, 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Jack E. Pankey, Scout Executive said that over 500 tickets have been given to scouts throughout the council.

more than 400 persons were expected for the session.

He said Louisiana veterans now receive free chiropractic care if more than 30 per cent disabled.

YAZOO CITY, Miss., April 13 (AP) —Mrs. Mollie Kinkead Turnage, owner of a 2,000-acre plantation and former newspaper editor, died this afternoon after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Turnage founded, edited and wrote for The Belzoni Banner, The Itta Bena Item and The Moorhead Monitor. She became a bridge expert, winning several cups and finally becoming a bridge teacher in New York City.

RICHMOND, Va., April 13 (AP) —Virginia's Methodist leaders have indicated they will fight a proposal to change the church's constitution to integrate white and Negro administrative units.

The issue will come before the Methodist General Conference in Minneapolis April 25-May 9. Bishop Paul Neff Garber and an 18-member delegation will represent Virginia.

The constitutional change would integrate the 360,000-member central jurisdiction, an all - Negro body, with the denomination's five other jurisdictions.

Mississippi Man Held For Murder Of Wife, Her Dad

RICHTON, Miss., April 13 (AP) — Murder charges were filed tonight against Louis Dykes, 38-year-old truck driver, who the highway patrol said telephoned an officer, "you'd better come get me, I just killed my wife and her dad."

Highway patrolman H. T. Richardson, who took the call, found the bodies of the man's 37-year-old estranged wife, Evelyn, and her 72-year-old father, Sidney Shannon, at the Shannon home here.

Dist. Atty. Danny Dabbs questioned Dykes for several hours and then filed murder charges.

Three shots from a .22 caliber Colt automatic killed Shannon, a retired farmer who lived on the edge of town. The woman had one bullet in the head.

The patrolman quoted Dykes as saying his wife and her father had refused to allow him to see his 14-year-old daughter, Anita Louise.

He said when he was ill in a Hattiesburg hospital she had not been allowed to visit him.

qualifications as a voter, to remain on the rolls.

Registration being challenged by the council fall into three general categories, Dr. Anderson said. They are:

1—Signed with an "X" and not witnessed.

2—Not filled out before the registrar.

3—Signatures on application do not match signature on the registration certificate.

The council's investigation has so far revealed instances of inequities in voter registration such as an eighteen-year-old youth being "registered." Another was that the same name, address, age, sex, etc., appearing on more than one card.

Mrs. Lucky pointed out yesterday that "Illiterate voters will be requested to bring two qualified voters from their precinct to sign affidavits stating they are well acquainted with the applicant, before they will be allowed to register."

Although they are closed now, the registration books will re-open for four days. April 18 through April 21, Mrs. Lucky said.

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson took off by plane at 6:40 p.m. EST tonight for Augusta, Ga., to confer with President Eisenhower on the farm bill.

He declined to tell reporters whether he would recommend a veto.

One reporter suggested to the secretary that if he sat on the right side of the plane, the newsmen would assume that he would urge a veto.

"But if you sit on the left side, we'll assume you will recommend that he sign the measure."

Smiling broadly, Benson said: "That's fair enough." He then proceeded to sit on the left side.

But it was noted that he had to sit there in order to wave farewell to Mrs. Benson, who had accompanied him to the airport.

Marshal Bluecher Back In Reds' Hero Column

MOSCOW, April 13 -- UP -- Marshal Vasili Bluecher, Russia's most distinguished field commander until his fall from grace in 1938, and other prominent military victims of the 1930 purges have been "rehabilitated" posthumously, a Soviet magazine reported Friday.

The monthly journal, Problems of History, Friday listed Bluecher among the other organizers of the Red Army and heroes of the civil war who were erased from the textbooks by Stalinist historians and who now have been restored to favor by the Communists.

Bluecher, organizer and commander of the autonomous Far Eastern Soviet Army, was denounced as an "enemy of the people" in 1938. He vanished and nothing more was heard of him. Only the year before, Bluecher sat on the military tribunal which convicted Marshal Mikhail Tukhachevsky of treason.

Bluecher first achieved prominence as the military adviser to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, "father" of modern China. He organized the Whampoa Military Academy where Chiang Kai-Shek studied.

Other prominent Soviet soldier victims reported rehabilitated by the Journal included: Marshal Alexander Yegorov, chief of the Soviet general staff until 1938; I. S. Unschlicht, chief of the air forces and vice chairman of the council of commissars; M. L. commissar of defense industry; M. S. Kedrov, chief of the defense section of the state planning commission.

If you mean to do your full part, it's none too soon for you to begin making plans for observing International Potato Bread for Flavor Week, April 22-28.

Tennessee Youth Takes District Oratory Contest

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., April 13 (AP) —Dan Duckworth, 18-year-old son of a Cleveland, Tenn. minister, today won a 12-state American Legion oratorical contest and will represent the area in the national finals at St.Louis, Mo., April 15.

Duckworth competed against Joan Marie Bucks, 1, of the Ft. Myers, Fla., high school, winner of the South Carolina-Georgia-Alabama regional, and Ronald Katz, of Jacinto High School, Houston, Tex., winner of the Arkansas, Mississippi-Louisiana award.

Crude Stocks Up

WASHINGTON, April 13 —UP— Crude oil stocks totaled 263,823,000 barrels on April 7, an increase of 1,757,000 barrels from the previous week, the Bureau of Mines reported Friday.

Texas had 123,648,000 barrels, a decrease of 37,000 barrels. Other stocks on hand: Kansas — 7,810,000 barrels, up 18,000; Louisiana — 16,446,000 barrels, up 36,000.
